Canadian Army Plunges Five Miles Into Germany

From Two Sides

Russian Armies Storm Frankfurt

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Russian troops have encircled the port of Elbing in East Prussia, 31 miles southeast of Danzig, Moscow announced tonight. The Ankara radio said today that Russian troops had completely cleared the Germans from Budapest.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—Moscow and Berlin reported today that Russian assault forces were storming Frankfurt from bridgeheads on the west bank of the Oder on both sides of the keystone base 33 miles east of Berlin.

The fall of Frankfurt would collapse the Oder river defence line before Berlin and bare the capital itself to frontal assault.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's spearheads across the Oder were probing westward behind an earth-shaking bombardment of Russian artillery massed on the east bank of the river, Moscow dispatches reported.

"NARROW" HOLDS

The German high command's only reference to the sector before Berlin said that the Germans "succeeded in narrowing down or eliminating by counter-attack several enemy bridgeheads."

A supplementary Berlin broadcast reported violent battles both north and south of Frankfurt, and Moscow dispatches said the Nazis were throwing all available strength into an effort to wipe out the Soviet footholds which clamped a pincers on the strategic city.

On either side of the Oder-Berlin front, Soviet armies were swinging westward to protect Zhukov's flanks, threaten the Bal-

Manahan Drops His Third Game In Local 'Spiel

Play in the Gas Company (sixth event) opened on the 9 a.m. draw Friday morning as the Alberta Curling Association's 28th annual bonspiel entered it's fifth day.

Highlight of the early morning draw was the defeat of Cliff Manahan's Royal Club rink by Skip Harold Haight, noted Calgary curler. The Manahan quartet, which won 17 straight games and were undefeated in last year's 'spiel took the short end of a 10-6 count in a game played at the Granite. It was Skip Manahan's third setback in the present bonspiel. He was eliminated from the Edmonton Brewery Ltd. Grand Challenge and King Edward events earlier.

CLOSE GAMES

No extra end games were played this morning, but a number of the games depended on the last rocks. Other scores were one-sided First defaulted game of the 'spiel was won by Charlie Purvis of Crossfield. W. Jessup of Coronation was the skip who defaulted the match.

The slightly lower temperature today has allowed the curlers to

Debt Collection Plan Said Legal

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP) — Law officers of the Crown said yesterday that the method by which the federal government is undertaking to collect the Saskatchewan government's obligation to the treasury in the seed grain debt dispute is "perfectly legal and regular."

Finance Minister Ilsley announced Tuesday that the federal government would collect the money owed by Saskatchewan by withholding moneys due the western province under the 1941 Dominion-provincial tax agreements.

Premier T. C. Douglas had charged that the federal government was violating the agreement by its withholding action.

City Policeman Sues Sergeant: Seeks $11,250

Sequel to the alleged fracas in the city police station on Christmas in which a police constable received a broken jaw and a fractured arm soon will be heard in supreme court.

On Friday morning, A. W. Miller, KC, Edmonton barrister, filed a statement of claim on behalf of Const. Arthur Johnson seeking $11,250 special and general damages from Sgt. Percy Appleby for injuries received when assaulted by the defendant on Dec. 25, 1944.

RECEIVES INJURIES

The assault alleged took place at the police station and resulted in Johnson suffering a fractured jaw and right arm. He was in hospital for a considerable time.

Both Johnson and Appleby were suspended and are still on suspension by Police Chief Reginald Jennings. Inquiry into the fracas will be held either Monday or Tuesday next. The inquiry was delayed because Johnson was not available to give evidence.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that in consequence of the beating the plaintiff was seriously hurt and wounded, and was, and will continue to be for a considerable time, unable to carry on his regular, or any, employment, and has incurred and will continue to incur, expenses for hospital, surgical, medical and dental attendance.

A claim for $500 for loss of time and inability to work, and $750 for medical, dental and hospital expenses has been made in addition to $10,000 general damages.

Retail Dealers Protest Co-Op. Tax Exemption

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9—(CP)—The food distributors of Manitoba yesterday claimed in a brief to the Royal Commission on Taxation of Co-operatives that tax free co-operatives are "a detriment to all other independent retail distributors."

At the closing session here of the four-day hearing of the commission, headed by Mr. Justice Eroll McDougall of Montreal, a spokesman for the food distributors said tax-free co-operatives would destroy private enterprise, defeat progress by destroying initiative, and would create unemployment and its train of poverty.

PROTEST EXEMPTION

The 580 independent distributors, in the brief, protested the exemption of co-operatives from income and excess profits taxes. The exemption "is neither fair, just, or reasonable and enabled co-operatives to accumulate profits and use them as operating funds."

The brief challenged the contention of co-operatives that they make no profits. It said: "our viewpoint is that profits, income surpluses, whatever you choose to

Battle for Manila Enters Last Phase

By FRANCIS McCARTHY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MANILA, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—The battle of Manila entered its last and bloodiest phase today as American infantrymen swarmed across the Pasig river to root out and destroy the Japanese trapped in the southern half of the city.

Soldiers of the 37th (Buckeye) Division crossed the Pasig in amphibious tanks and on pontoon bridges late Wednesday and quickly established a wide bridgehead on the south bank opposite the Malacanang palace.

The Japanese put up only weak resistance along the river bank, but they stiffened later Wednesday night and fought back savagely with mortars, artillery and rifle fire.

RESISTANCE WEAKENS

Their position was rapidly disintegrating, however, and it was believed that all organized opposition would be crushed within a very few days at most. The advancing 37th was deep into the southern half of the capital early today and herding the Japanese survivors back slowly into the waiting guns of the U.S. 11th Airborne Division moving up from the south.

The desperate street battle was going ahead under a great pall of smoke and flame that blanketed the entire southern half of Manila.

Meanwhile, other American troops practically completed the job of cutting Luzon in two along a line running southeastward from the Lingayen gulf beachheads 110 miles north of Manila.

Units of the 25th and Sixth Infantry Divisions wiped out the last Japanese resistance in Munoz, Rizal and Lupao, 75 to 85 miles above the capital, after one of the bitterest fights of the campaign.

London Press Hails Crerar's Victory Drive

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—News of the 1st Canadian Army offensive launched yesterday in the eastern sector of the Nijmegen salient was displayed today under banner headlines across the front pages of London morning newspapers, squeezing the Russian campaign into second place for the first time in weeks.

Headlines such as: "Montgomery Attacks" and "We Strike in West" reflected the emphasis in dispatches that although this was Gen. Crerar's show, British troops too were taking part.

The Daily Express rushed an editorial into its final edition which warned that the assault was difficult and hazardous. "There is no precedent in history for a major attack such as this in fill-dyke February in the west," the paper said. "The highest qualities of valor and endurance will be called for. They will be forthcoming. This time the prize is victory, final and absolute."

(The term "fill-dyke February" is often used in Britain, denoting a month in which rainfall usually is heavy).

Offensive Aimed Squarely At German Ruhr, Rhineland

By BOYD LEWIS
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian First Army forces today plunged nearly five miles into the Siegfried defences in a full-scale offensive which Nazi commentators feared would be joined "at any moment" by the British Second and American Ninth Armies.

Crerar's Canadian and United Kingdom troops went into action today in an offensive which Marshal Montgomery has concentrated so far on a six-mile front faced squarely at the German Ruhr and Rhineland.

Front dispatches reported that in the first 24 hours of the offensive it had overrun 12 German villages and taken in 1,800 prisoners.

DRIVE THROUGH FOREST

The attacking formations drove forward steadily through the Reichswald forest southeast of Nijmegen, imperilling Cleve and Goch, northern anchors of the Siegfried belt.

They reported German resistance was stiffening although still light and there were signs the Nazis were shifting troops from the south to meet the threat.

Crerar's men reported "good progress" across soggy territory. They captured 1,200 prisoners, including two Nazi battalion commanders.

A Nazi military commentator said that an attack by the British Second and American Ninth armies along

Panic Prevails

Berlin Now City Of Death, Ruins

By W. R. HIGGINBOTHAM
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—Moscow radio reported today that civil administration offices had ceased to function in panic-stricken Berlin and Swedish refugees described the German capital as a city of death and ruins.

"Panic grows with each passing hour in Berlin," the Moscow broadcast said, charging that Nazi party leaders had sent money and valuables from Germany.

The Luxembourg radio claimed that all Nazi ministries, party offices and German Army offices had evacuated Berlin.

Another Moscow broadcast quoted a Japanese correspondent in Berlin as saying that tram and bus services had stopped and that the food supply was shrinking rapidly.

FLU EPIDEMIC

Moscow radio also reported that huge influex of refugees into the Magdeburg area, west of Berlin,

Alberta Shows Cash Surplus Of $2,370,919

Alberta's over-all cash surplus for the first nine months of the current fiscal year was $2,370,919, a decrease of $777,696 from the surplus in the corresponding period of the previous financial year, it is revealed in an interim report issued Friday by Premier Ernest Manning, provincial treasurer.

The report was compiled by C. K. Huckvale, provincial auditor.

The finance statement, covering from April 1, 1944, to Dec. 31, indicates a drop in over-all cash surplus for the complete fiscal year which ends March 31. In the 1943-44 year, the surplus was $4,800,000. At the present rate, it is hardly likely the 1944-45 surplus will reach $4,000,000.

The report reveals expense of the 1944 provincial general election to Dec. 31 were $212,846.90. This figure is almost complete, only late

Nazis Execute Another Mayor For Fleeing City

LONDON, Feb. 9—(CP)—The Germans announced today execution of another mayor for fleeing his city before the advancing Red Army.

Mayor Schroeter of Koenigsberg, a small Pomeranian town on the east side of the Oder between Berlin and Stettin, was "hanged for leaving his town without receiving evacuation orders," the Berlin radio said.

The first announcement did not locate Koenigsberg and left the impression that the capital of East Prussia was meant. Later Berlin broadcasts identified the town.

General Election

War Situation Causing Delay In Fixing Date

By CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 9. — Evident signs that Germany's organized resistance is on the point of collapse are causing some hesitation among cabinet ministers discussing the fixing of a date for a general election.

The possibility of a blood purge of the Nazi gangsters followed by disintegration of the German armies in the midst of a Canadian general election gives considerable cause for pause and thought.

What would the effect be on Canadian mass thinking?

Conscription, which the Conservative board of strategy has been whooping up as their pet issue would have lost its chief force. The Allied need of Canadian armies overseas for more reinforcements than already provided, the government alleges is a "phony" charge, anyway.

SWITCH THEME

There can be little doubt but that the government's enemies would at once switch to the theme of cutting expenditures and taxes, the moment the Germans throw in the sponge.

The war with Japan, of course, would still have to be settled. But as has been publicly announced the United States government is already planning to move huge masses of soldiery from the European to the Pacific theatre the moment German resistance on an organized scale ceases. Canada, of course, would be expected to do her

New York Papers Play Up Strongly Canadian Attack

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(CP)—New York newspapers today played up strongly the Canadian part in the current British-Canadian drive on the western front.

In an edition marked "Extra", the tabloid Post carried this front-page headline: "Canadians smash into Germany."

The World-Telegram flared this double eight-column headline: "Canadians invade Reich in big Ruhr offensive."

Other evening papers also gave prominence to the drive. Typical was the Journal-American's line: "Monty Opens Flank Drive on Westwall".

Yard Official Is Killed When Hit by Train

Struck by a railroad tank car in the Canadian National Railways yards about 9:05 p.m. Thursday, Joseph J. Zender, assistant yardmaster, 10714 107 street, died in an ambulance before reaching hospital. He was 65 years old.

The accident, according to city police, occurred around 104 avenue and 110 street, while some switching was being done. Complete details as to how it happened were lacking, but it was learned that an engine was pulling three cars which were to be switched in the west end of the yards.

According to police, the switch foreman, George W. Heatherington, 10615 112 street, had dropped from the moving cars at one switch to speak to Mr. Zender, while two other switchmen, Joseph Nakonechny of 10234 104 street, and R. P. Elliott of 11039 102 avenue, handled the cars.

Mr. Heatherington then turned away from his companion, walking in one direction, while the latter started off in another. A moment later, Mr. Heatherington said, he

Big Air Fleets Blast Targets Deep in Reich

LONDON, Feb. 9. — (BUP)— More than 2,150 Allied bombers and fighters raided synthetic oil plants, armament factories and rail yards deep in Germany today in a shattering blow at the heart of the Nazi war machine.

The assault followed in the wake of a heavy RAF night attack on a synthetic oil plant at Poelitz, nine miles north of Stettin and the bombing of Berlin by Mosquitos. The daytime assault was carried out by more than 1,300 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and about 850 Mustangs and Thunderbolts.

The American bombers concentrated and the armament and motor transport plant at Weimar, southwest of Leipzig; the important rail freight yards at Magdeburg, west of Berlin, the synthetic oil works at Lutzkendorf and other communication targets in Germany.

HEAVY NIGHT RAID

About 1,000 RAF and RCAF bombers last night attacked Poelitz while the Mosquitos bombed Berlin.

The Poelitz plant is one of the two largest synthetic oil plants in Germany itself and specializes in aviation gas.

It was completely knocked out of production by the ARF on the night of Jan. 13 but since then the Germans have had time to complete repairs, according to the air ministry news service.

Patrols Bolster 5th Army Lines

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—Patrols advanced several hundred yards to strengthen Allied Fifth Army positions in the Serchio Valley in the west coastal sector, headquarters said today. Minor clashes were reported along other fronts.

German patrols probed British Eighth Army positions south of the Po Di Primaro, about eight miles north of Ravenna on the east coast but were repulsed.

Fighter bombers and fighters increased their attacks and gave close support to Fifth Army forces in the western sector.

Planes of the tactical air force concentrated heavily on enemy communications in northern Italy and targets on the Brenner rail routes. The MAAF reported 19 planes missing from more than 2,200 sorties. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

TAMPA, Florida, Feb. 9.—There's been a lot of argument between California and Florida about their oranges, but I really believe the Florida oranges are larger and harder. At least that's the way they struck me. They grow lots of grapefruit here too. That's a bowling ball with jaundice.

BOB HOPE

This is really romantic country. I passed a swamp and an alligator kept rubbing noses with my suitcase. I just left that freezing weather in New York and here I am in sunny Florida and I've been peeling my goose pimples all day. They really have changeable weather here. In fact, this is the first time I ever saw anyone wearing sun suits with ear-muffs. The Florida Chamber of Commerce won't allow you to bring anything into the state that even looks like long underwear. Really the sun shines every day and the natives love that sunshine so much they always carry cellophane umbrellas.

In Effort to Stop Russians

Himmler Takes Field Command

By BRUCE W. MUNN
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 9 — (BUP) — Heimrich Himmler, Nazi commander in chief on the home front, has taken a field command in a desperate attempt to stop the Russian drive although Berliners, dazed and living in an atmosphere of almost unbearable tension, are awaiting the end hopelessly, it was reported last night.

A German news broadcast said that Himmler was commanding an army and indicated that it was on the Pomeranian front, but it was believed that he had taken over at the most critical part of the line in the path of the Red Army's advance on Berlin.

The first Swedish refugees who arrived home in the start of a mass exodus, reported that about 300,000 persons had fled Berlin since the Russians reached the area of Kuerstin, 38 miles from Berlin, a week ago.

STREAM THROUGH CITY

Refugees from the east are still streaming through the city, the Swedish arrivals said.

Along with Berliners, the refugees are streaming southward and westward, it was said.

Those who remain in Berlin expect the Russians to reach the city within a week or two, the Swedes said.

They report that Berliners fear most the prospect of bloody, prolonged street fighting, praying that if the end comes it will come quickly.

Berlin is almost without coal in bitterly cold weather, reports said and electricity is now seldom available. Shops are empty, even potatoes and turnips are hard to find and the general food situation is approaching the catastrophic stage, according to reports. Newspapers appear irregularly and broadcasts were disorganized.

Nazi storm troopers and SS men were reported keeping a tight grip on Berlin in fear of a panic uprising.

Drive Into Reich

the Roer front could be expected at any moment. He said the objective of Montgomery's offensive was not yet clear.

USE SMOKE SCREENS

The Germans reported that Crerar's troops were making extensive use of artificial smoke in order to camouflage their movements.

Some German prisoners were groggy from the effects of Crerar's massive barrages which hurled debris and columns of smoke high over the fortified villages. One prisoner said Canadian guns knocked out half of his 12-gun battery.

It was notable that the Germans had not yet been able to react sharply more than 24 hours after the initial surprise assault.

Considerable vehicular movement was observed, however, on roads leading southeastward toward Venlo and it was believed the German commanders may be attempting to strengthen their defences around Goch and Cleve at the expense of the Roer front farther south.

EXTENT OF FRONT

The six-mile arc of the Canadian front extended tonight from the Rhine bend two miles northwest of Leuth around to the Dutch town of Mook on the Maas. At its easternmost bulge it crossed the Nijmegen-Cleve road somewhere east of Kranenburg.

Among the towns captured today were Leuth, four and a half miles east of Nijmegen, Frasselt on the Kranenburg road, Vreedweg at the westernmost tip of the Reichswald, and Zandpol, Niel and Tuthees, near Kranenburg.

By evening the troops were fighting well inside the Reichwald after considerable progress through tangled brushwood. They were established firmly on a north-south line some way inside the forest.

MAY PLAN ATTACK

Front dispatches said the Germans might be preparing to counter the offensive. They reported enemy movements in the areas of Venlo and Goch.

Advancing steadily behind a screen of flame-throwing tanks, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian and United Kingdom infantry spilled over the German border southeast of Nijmegen and drove several spearheads deep into the Reichswald forest.

IMPERIL BASTIONS

Vanguards of the attacking force were reported half-way through the forest early today, imperilling the twin strongholds of Cleve and Goch that form the northern anchor of Germany's west wall.

First Army paratroops, fighting as infantry, were reported to have pushed almost five miles into the forest from the west to within about four miles southwest of Cleve and 5½ miles northwest of Goch.

German resistance, softened and in some places paralyzed by thundering Allied aerial and artillery combardment, showed no signs of stiffening this morning, 24 hours after the start of Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery's offensive that promised to set the whole western front ablaze.

Aerial reconnaissance indicated, however, that the Germans were recovering from their initial surprise and were beginning to rush reserves into the threatened area.

7 TOWNS CAPTURED

At least seven towns, two of them German, were captured in the first 12 hours of the advance of one of Crerar's columns on the northern flank of the assault line was reported less than three miles from the Rhine crossing town of Millingen.

The outer belt of the Siegfried fortifications already had been cracked and field dispatches indicated that the flooded, soggy terrain was proving almost as great a barrier as the Germans to the forward progress.

More than 1,200 prisoners were captured in the first onrush, and the bag was reported mounting rapidly.

Headquarters spokesmen made it clear that the big push was on to break open Germany's western front in co-ordination with the Red Army march on Berlin from the east.

SURPRISED ENEMY

The combined forces of the Canadian First Army went over to the attack against the northern corner of the Siegfried wall at a moment when jittery Nazi spokesmen were predicting that Field Marshal Montgomery would launch his offensive farther south on the British Second and American Ninth Army fronts.

Berlin said the British and American Armies massed along the Roer were deploying for a grand assault on the Cologne plain.

Still farther south, the American First Army broke through the Siegfried defences covering the Roer river dams while Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army breached the West Wall on an eight mile front before Pruem and won ten crossings of the Sure and Our river lines between Luxembourg and Germany.

COLMAR CLEARED

At the bottom of the Allied front, all organized German resistance ended suddenly in Southern Alsace, where a combined French and American army cleared out the Colmar pocket after more than a month of fierce fighting.

The Canadian First Army offensive opened shortly after midnight Thursday morning when a great fleet of RAF and RCAF heavy bombers thundered across the battle lines to splatter more than 2,000 tons of bombs down on Cleve and Goch.

At five a.m., hundreds of field guns opened up with a tremendous bombardment that continued for 11 hours without let up.

Then, at 10:30 a.m., Crerar sent his armored and infantry divisions over the top. The first onrush carried away the outer works of the Siegfried Line in a matter of hours. Hundreds of shell-shocked Nazis surrendered and the advance rolled forward through a number of Dutch towns all lying in an arc three to four miles southeast and east of Nijmegen.

CLOSE TO RHINE

At Zyfflich, Crerar's troops were less than 5,000 yards from the Rhine in the Millingen area.

Upwards of 2,700 RAF, RCAF and Allied planes scourged the German troops from early morning until nightfall Thursday. Concentrations of German troops and armor, supply bases, highway and railroad lines all come under the Allied air attack.

After dark, swarms of RAF Mosquito bombers joined in the assault, raking a 75-mile belt of the German forward lines from the Nijmegen area down to Duren on the Roer.

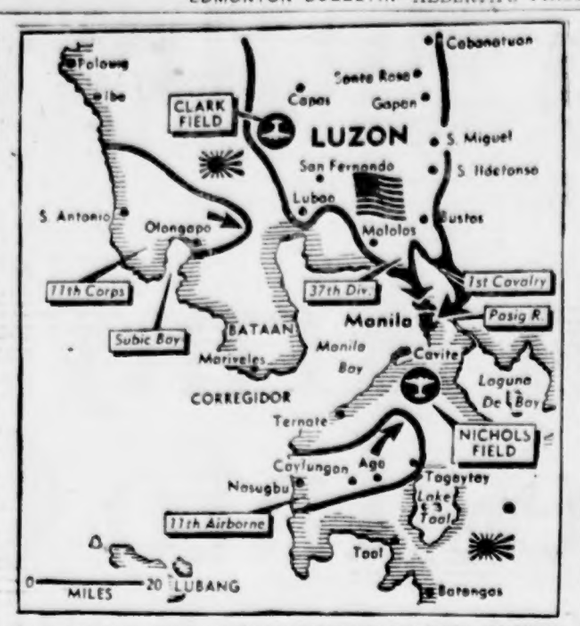

NEARING BIG DAM

On the American First Army front, elements of an infantry division drove 1½ miles east of captured Schmidt to within a mile north of the Schwammuenauel dam, the main link in the Nazi dam system controlling the level of the Roer to the north.

German resistance was reported crumbling rapidly after Americans cleared the fortified Siegfried belt around Schmidt and the chain of Roer dams appeared likely to fall into American hands in a matter of days, clearing the way for the British Second and U.S. Ninth Armies to push across the river.

On the Third Army front, Patton's troops closed to within a mile of the big German supply and communications centre of Pruem from the west, north and northwest.

The Siegfried line defences had been broken on an eight-mile front northwest of Pruem, and the American advance was gaining momentum in that area, despite repeated German counter attacks.

DAILY WAR MAP—EXCLUSIVELY IN THE EDMONTON BULLETIN—American 1st Cavalry enters Manila from the east, and 37th Division invades from the north, as shown on this map. MacArthur's forces freed 3,700 prisoners from Santo Tomas prison camp. Meanwhile, the 11th Airborne Division moves rapidly from the south after a parachute landing at Tagaytay Ridge, threatening 10,000 Japs below Pasig river.

heard someone shout that "Joe has been struck. Get a doctor and call an ambulance."

Going to where the injured man lay, it was found he had received severe head lacerations, while two fingers on the left hand had been crushed. Although still breathing, Mr. Zender was unconscious when members of the crew reached him.

Placed in a Smith's ambulance, Mr. Zender was rushed to the University hospital, but died before arrival.

Born in the State of Minnesota April 26, 1879, Mr. Zender joined the service of the Canadian Northern Railway in Edmonton Dec. 12, 1910. He continued with the CNR after amalgamation of the lines. His duties since that time were in the yards here, as switch foreman and more recently, assistant yardmaster.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two children, Capt. Robert Zender, RCAMC, former University of Alberta rugby star, and Miss Cathryn Zender, well known singer, pianist and teacher.

Inquiry into the death was scheduled to begin Friday afternoon with a coroner's jury gathering for identification of the body, according to Detective William McDonald, coroner's officer. No date has yet been set for the hearing.

EXPECT REDS SOON

Refugees reaching Sweden from Germany said that survivors in Berlin expect the Red Army to reach the German capital "within a week or two."

"It's like the end of the world", one of a group of more than 20 Swedish refugees said on his arrival at Malmo, Sweden, after fleeing Germany through Berlin.

Others said the bodies of thousands of Berliners who were killed in air raids or died from hunger, exposure or disease had been buried in the streets. They believed a state of siege would be proclaimed soon.

Thousands—other reports have placed the number as high as 15,000 or 20,000—were killed in the Allied air raid on Berlin Saturday, the refugees said.

NEW-TYPE BOMB

A Swedish engineer suggested that a new-type bomb may have been used. He said people scores of yards from where the bombs fell were killed "by air pressure".

"Not only did the new bombs seem to carry a greater weight of explosive than before, but they seemed to have a fantastically wide blasting effect", he said.

Much of Berlin has been knocked flat by bombs, the travellers said. Nothing remains in the centre of the capital, they reported.

Soviet Troops Clamp Pincers On Frankfurt

tic port of Stettin, and hew out expanding pockets west of the Oder in Silesia.

A Nazi communique reported heavy fighting in the area of Pyritz, 23 miles southwest of Stettin, and along a line eastward through the Arnswalde and Deutsch Krone areas.

POWERFUL ATTACKS

Berlin said the Russians opened powerful attacks from the Steinau bridgehead across the Oder northwest of Breslau, and were pushing westward. The German command said the Soviets reached the outskirts of Liegnitz, big transport centre 40 miles west and slightly north of Breslau.

Eighteen miles north of Frankfurt Soviet armored forces fought in the streets of burning Kuestrin, which the Nazis said had been encircled "temporarily" by the junction of Russian bridgeheads across the Oder.

A Moscow broadcast hinted at an impending announcement on the battle of the Oder before Berlin by the Red Army command. It said Zhukov's front had been "wrapped in official silence which usually precedes some big announcement."

"Hard battles on the Oder on both sides of Frankfurt continued," Ernst von Hammer, Nazi military commentator said.

FIRM FOOTHOLD

He reported that the Germans had crushed a Soviet bridgehead across the Oder at Eurstenburg, 43 miles southeast of Berlin, but other Russian units "gained a firm foothold on the west bank" just south of Frankfurt.

Von Hammer said Marshal Ivan S. Konev's army was attacking anew from its bridgehead across the Oder at Steinau, and had driven to Lueben, 40 miles northwest of Breslau. He reported a "gigantic battle" in the Breslau-Liegenitz-Glogau triangle.

Swedish refugees who fled Berlin to their homeland reported that inhabitants of the German capital expect the Red Army to reach it "within a week or two." More than 300,000 Berliners have left the city since the Russians arrived at the Oder, they said.

FIGHT IN KUESTRIN

"The Nazis not only admitted that fierce street fighting was under way in Kuestrin, but said that the Soviets had encircled the fortress town by linking up two bridgeheads on the west bank of the Oder. Kuestrin lies on the east bank 38 miles east of Berlin.

The encirclement later was broken, however, Berlin said.

Other Soviet forces were fighting to clear the east bank outskirts of Frankfurt, 18 miles south of Kuestrin and 33 miles east of Berlin. Both anchor towns were in flames from Soviet artillery and Nazi demolitions.

The official German DNB Agency said the Russians were pouring tanks into bridgeheads across the Oder—still unconfirmed officially by Moscow—preparatory to "a large-scale attack on the Reich capital."

NEARING STETTIN

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov swung the northern wing of his First White Russian Army toward the Baltic on a broad front in an attempt to seal off a 12,000 square mile pocket consisting of Pomerania, the Polish Corridor and Danzig.

Advancing 15 to 22 miles on a 30-mile front, the First Army shattered the first German defence line before Stettin and the Baltic at a point 40 to 58 miles northeast of Kuestrin.

The advance carried to within 19 miles southeast of Stargard, a 10-way railway and highway hub guarding the approaches to Stettin.

The Russians also were within 36 miles south of Stettin at Soldin, captured several days ago.

SILESIAN ADVANCE

In Silesia, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian Army expanded its bridgehead across the Oder river 180 miles southeast of Berlin to 240 square miles, Kurtsch, 12 miles south of Breslau, was captured in an advance to within a half mile of one of the four remaining railways out of the Silesian capital.

Konev's southern wing renewed its drive toward the Moravian gap to Prague and Vienna. Forty towns and villages along a 10-mile front were captured in advances of up to nine miles within 26 miles of the Czechoslovak gateway city of Cieszyn (Teschen).

Far to the north, the Russians captured the east Prussian stronghold of Kreuzburg, 12 miles south of Koenigsberg, and killed more than 4,000 Nazi troops in tightening their encirclement of the East Prussian garrison.

Nazis Riot When Told of Defeats

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—News of Russian victories on the Eastern Front caused a riot yesterday between youthful Nazis and older German soldiers at a prisoner-of-war camp in Northwest England. The young Nazis were told at the camp the true story of the Eastern Front situation. They accused the older men of being defeatists and lying.

continue without interruption and it is not likely that any draws will have to be cancelled today.

Games on the 11:30 draw were in the North West Brewery, T. Eaton and King Edward competitions. The T. Eaton and King Edward matches were in the 16's while the winners in the North West Brewery contest advanced to the '16s in that event.

An upset occurred on the 11:30 draw when C. A. Runyon of Viking, who had won eight straight, suffered his first defeat of the 'spiel by bowing 10-2 to A. Aspol's Pouce Coupe rink in a King Edward match at the Alberta Avenue ice. This left Glen Williams of Calgary and George McLaughlin of the Royal the only two unbeaten rinks.

War Situation Causing Delay In Fixing Date

share. But her share in the Pacific would be on such a reduced scale that there is small doubt requirements for that effort could be provided by voluntary re-enlistments. The Canadian navy, of course, would do its part.

POST-WAR PROBLEMS

Gigantic post-war problems—participation in a general world organization to enforce world peace; policing of the defeated Germans; aid in rehabilitation of European nations; restoration of normal Canadian trade; repatriation of overseas forces and their re-establishment at home—these are just a few of the questions that would overwhelm the Conservative conscription bogey if the German collapse took place right in the middle of a Canadian general election.

The end of German organized war is now so patently near that these cabinet ministers think it would be a vital error to rush into a general election at the last moment of the European big scale war.

They think it would be better to call the election some time in mid-June when the whole war position would be re-oriented towards peace and the election fought on the issue of post-war problems.

This is not a unanimous view, and whether it will prevail is still a 50-50 bet.

vouchers and cost of the servicemen's vote remaining to be added. According to election officials, total cost of the vote will not exceed $250,000.

CASH PAYMENTS

Cash payments for the nine-month period show an increase of $2,138,946 over the 1943 period. Main increases include old age and other pensions, $471,054; school grants, $370,577; wool bonus payments, $103,288; hospitals (administration and grants), $128,423; general departmental increases, $417,943.

Payments under maternity hospitalization legislation totalled $328,936 to Dec. 31. The government provided $643,590 for the whole fiscal year.

Increased rehabilitation activity under the Dominion - provincial youth training plan amounted to $42,580, reflecting return of servicemen to civilian life after periods spent with the armed forces.

Pointing to an all-time record in profits, the Alberta Liquor Control Board showed net profit of $4,647,373 for the first nine months of the 1944-45 fiscal year. The profit is up by $364,319 over figures for the corresponding period of 1943. Board remissions to the provincial treasury to Dec. 31 were $3,750,000.

INCOME ACCOUNT

Receipts on income account shown by the statement reveal $23,179,126 received and $21,558,610 paid out, leaving a net balance of $1,620,516.

Main increases in receipts are on account of old age pensions, $379,426; fuel oil tax, $204,927; Dominion of Canada subsidies, $40,264; motor vehicle licenses, $66,841, and treasury branch earnings, $62,900.

The government received $1,879,344 from the Dominion government on account of old age pensions. Fuel oil taxes brought in $3,063,128, while by subsidy the Dominion contributed $937,669. Motor vehicle license sales in Alberta up to the end of December deposited $3,060,669 in the treasury.

Total treasury branch earnings to Dec. 31 were $131,880, an increase over earnings of $68,979 in the previous corresponding period.

A total of $511,226 was paid out of the post-war reconstruction fund, for main highways, bridges and stream control. A total of $2,000,000 has been paid in to the reconstruction fund in the last two years.

Another American Airfield Is Lost

KINMUNG, China, Feb. 9—(AP)—Destruction of another American airfield east of the Japanese corridor, dissecting southeastern China was announced yesterday. This base was at Kanchow, two other fields which the Americans also have lost. The Sincheng field, big enough to accommodate the B-29 super-fortresses, was completed only nine days before it was given up Jan. 29 and never had become operational.

Limping Genius of Propaganda, Joe Goebbels Alone Keeps Head

By THOMAS HAWKINS

BERN, Feb. 9.—(AP)—One Nazi leader among them all has kept his head through the crisis of the Russian offensive and remains the major force and inspiration that keeps Germany's fighting strength from foundering.

He is Paul Joseph Goebbels, limping genius of propaganda. Others who know and have watched Goebbels for many years confirm that the little doctor, who has reared a family and knows home life in a way toward which his fellow Nazi leaders rarely inclined themselves, sees the end in sight and is determined to stick it out.

He is, he told friends, doing everything in his power to see Berlin defended and to keep up the propaganda for fighting as long as he can. He says he will not try to escape.

JOSEPH GOEBBELS

HITLER STILL CONFIDENT

Hitler, so it is told, does not even now accept the possibility of defeat. In recent declarations to his intimates—not confirmable but not unlikely—he was said to have maintained that God is still with the Germans; that God is making the test a bit hard now but that eventually all will be well. He was said to believe that Berlin now is only a symbol of one-time German splendor.

Hitler was reported clinging to his Berchtesgaden tower where he expects to stay while loyal Nazi troopers surround him in reduit national — a reduit (an isolated defence point) that to the fanatical Hitler is only a preliminary to another era of "sieg heil."

For Himmler there is no choice. He is known to have been at Breslau just before the Russians got there in an effort to organize effective earth-scorching. He has been travelling between Berlin and the eastern front constantly. He is the brains behind the Berchtesgaden fortress plan.

GOERING UNHAPPIEST

Goering, say those who have seen him, is the unhappiest of the lot. He had his New Year's Eve dinner at Karen Hall with about 220 guests, but even before the Russian offensive he lacked the cheerful mien of the host he used to love to play. Diplomatic circles say he is deeply depressed and spoke pessimistically.

Rumors say that he is seeking some way to assure himself of safety when the collapse comes.

Not Many Alberta Draftees on Loose

CALGARY, Feb. 9—(CP)—Not many draftees are still "on the loose" in Alberta, it was stated at military district 13 headquarters here yesterday.

Since Feb. 1, a total of 29 soldiers absent without leave, were gathered in, it was stated, while a few are drifting back to their army centres from time to time.

The men overstayed leaves granted at Christmas and New Years.

In all, it is estimated that over 600 men who went AWL have returned voluntarily or have been apprehended since the first of the year.

While it is believed most of the absentees have returned, a complete check of the province is being made by the Provost Corps and civil police.

"We hope to have them all gathered in by the end of this month," a spokesman at military district 13 headquarters said.

Recover $200,000,000 From Govt. Contracts

OTTAWA, Feb. 9. — (CP) — The munitions department so far has recovered $200,000,000 in the renegotiation of contracts for the years 1941 to 1943, and it is expected the figure will reach $300,000,000 when the job is finished. Much of this money would eventually find its way into the Federal treasury through excess profit tax, but it is estimated that the net gain to the Dominion on the $200,000,000 so far recovered has been about $40,000,000.

of the brigade front was holding a bridgehead over the Leopold Canal. This section position was considered to be vital to the security of the bridgehead.

LEADER KILLED

"During one of the numerous enemy counter-attacks the section leader was killed, the section became disorganized and its position precarious. Without hesitation and without orders Rfn. Letendre took command. With complete disregard for his own safety he moved about under fire, organized the section and encouraged the men. Several counter-attacks by the enemy followed. So completely had Rfn. Letendre re-organized the section that all counter-attacks against the position were beaten off and many casualties inflicted on the enemy.

"The courage, initiative and fighting spirit exhibited by Rfn. Letendre were an example to all ranks who rallied under his leadership and held a vital position under most difficult circumstances."

Sgt. Clarence Kenneth Crockett was born at Nanton, Oct. 31, 1919. Prior to joining the army he lived at Airdrie. He has been serving overseas with the infantry. His wife, Mrs. Henrietta Crockett lives at Airdrie.

He was awarded the DCM for action along the Albert Canal, Belgium, Sept. 24, 1944, when the regiment of which he was a member took over a section of the canal east of Antwerp and was ordered to send a fighting patrol over the canal that night to secure a bridgehead. Tha citation states that: "His indomitable courage and outstanding leadership were directly responsible for the establishment of the initial bridgehead and its subsequent enlargement.

BUILT BRIDGE

"The foothold gained by this magnificent action enabled the Royal Canadian Engineers to construct a bridge with a minimum of delay, making possible the passage of two brigades across the canal and the capture of the entire sector between the Albert Canal and the Turnhout Canal. His bravery and example will ever remain an inspiration to his regiment and to the Canadian Army."

Sgt. William Mattock Ironside, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, was born in London, Eng., on Feb. 7, 1902. His mother is Mrs. Lillian Ironside of Blackfalds, Alta.

GALLANT ACTION

The citation follows in part:

"On the dunes just south of the Westkapelle Gay on Walcheren Island on Nov. 1, 1944, at 10:35 a.m. a number of landing vehicles were struck by enemy shell fire.

"Throughout the action on the south dunes, Sgt. Ironside, after the medical officer with whom he was working was wounded, took complete charge of the collecting and evacuating of casualties from a casualty clearing post he established. His conduct throughout the day was an inspiration to the men under him and was far above that required to carry out his duties."

Beaufighters Hit Northern Celebes With Depth Bombs

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. — (CP) — Depth charges, normally used by naval craft, played a new role this week when RAAF planes used them to bomb Japanese concentrations in the Northern Celebes, part of the Netherlands East Indies, the Australian News and Information Bureau here reported last night.

More than 20 RAAF Beaufighters, each carrying a 325-pound depth charge under either wing, and supported by nearly 40 RAAF fighter-bombers, swept over a Japanese bivouac area at the northeastern end of Menado village at the northeastern end of the Celebes.

The Beaufighters, peeling off singly from 8,000 feet, released their depth charges from 1,000 feet and palm trees and buildings in the area were flattened.

Demarcation Line Difficult Problem

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters)—One of the most difficult military problems ever tackled now is under discussion, it is believed, by the staffs of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin. They have to decide on a military demarcation line in Germany as distinct from the political demarcation line of the zones to be occupied after the German defeat.

The position at the moment is that the eastern and western armies are divided by about 400 miles, that the Russians are less than 40 miles from Berlin and the western Allies 360 miles.

To all appearances the Russian commanders now are in process of consolidating their positions to the north and south of the Berlin thrust and some time may elapse before the next major phase of their battle against Berlin.

The renewed activity in the west indicates that this breather in the east will be utilized by Gen. Eisenhower to get his armies into favorable jumping-off positions for the final phase of the battle for Germany. Therefore it possibly would be misleading to discuss the military demarcation line on the basis of the present position of Allied armies in the west.

Queen Wilhelmina Requests Premier To Reform Govt.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Netherlands cabinet members submitted their resignations last night to Queen Wilhelmina as the result of a controversy over policy, and the Queen immediately asked Premier Pieter Gerbrandy to reconstitute a government.

Mr. Gerbrandy asked permission for time to consider whether he would accept the assignment.

The Netherlands government was the second in two days to fall as a result of Western Europe's liberation troubles. The Belgian government in Brussels quit Wednesday.

There was no immediate clear-cut explanation of The Netherlands crisis.

Retail Dealers Protest Co-Op. Tax Exemption

call them, are any pecuniary gain in business or elsewhere after deducting legitimate costs, expenditures and overhead. If co-operatives can, and they do, accumulate capital in that manner, what else can it be called but profits."

A corporation, company or private business, other than a co-operative is taxed on all income, less allowable deductions, no matter how these earnings are ultimately used, it said.

DEVELOP MONOPOLIES

"If the present situation governing co-operatives continues, it will tend to develop a monopolistic state of affairs."

The brief said Manitoba independently-owned stores bought out by co-operatives — "many of them no doubt bought by accumulated capital from tax free profits"—were bought at a price that did not mean much to the original owners.

"The result is that both the merchant and his employees, if any, are left out on a limb as it were, looking for work. Fair competition is the life of trade, and the food distributors in Manitoba are not afraid of it."

TAXATION OF CO-OPS. SEEN AS BETRAYAL

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9. — (CP) — Taxation of co-operatives "will be a betrayal of trust and the repudiation of an essential international obligation," said the CCF, Manitoba section, in a brief yesterday to the Royal Commission on taxation of co-operatives here.

Several of 10 briefs presented yesterday charged that tax free co-operatives could "become a vicious cycle" with all retail business eventually being placed on a co-operative basis. "Then we would have socialism," said H. Moore of Winnipeg, secretary of the food distributors of Manitoba, in reply to Commission Counsel E. T. Parker of Halifax.

MATTER OF POLICY

"Encouragement of the co-operative movement has become a matter of social policy, not only nationally, but internationally," said the CCF brief.

"There is wide agreement, if not unanimity, among the democratic nations that co-operatives have a large and growing part to play in the economy of the future."

Mother, Daughter Perish in Blaze

BIRCH HILLS, Sask., Feb. 9 — (CP)—Mrs. Violet Amonson, 28, and her two-year-old daughter were burned to death, and her mother, Mrs. Henry Amonson, suffered burns from which she is not expected to recover, in a fire which Wednesday destroyed their farm home near here.

The fire is believed to have started when Violet was attempting to start a fire with gasoline. An explosion followed, scattering the flaming gasoline over the woman's body.

She ran for assistance to an adjoining bed-room where her mother and the baby girl were resting. In attempting to extinguish the flames which enveloped her daughter, Mrs. Amonson's clothing also caught fire.

Both women then raced outdoors, rolled in the snow and smothered the flames. Violet, however, ran back into the house in an effort to rescue the child but both perished before the mother could reach them.

Iroquois Patrols Off French Coast

By LIEUT. CMDR. W. GILHOOLY, RCNVR

A SOUTHERN BRITISH PORT, (Delayed) — HMCS "Iroquois" has returned to her home port today after another of the "vigilante" patrols she has been maintaining off the coasts of Brittany and Poitou with British and Polish warships.

The patrol was without action against the enemy. No vessels from German held ports along this stretch of the Bay of Biscay dared run the gauntlet of the forces of which "Iroquois" formed part and only sudden, swift lamp challenges from shore batteries revealed the alertness of the enemy and the fact that our presence had been detected.

"Iroquois" was in gun range several times but was too phanton a target to be trained upon. She ignored those challenges; each night kept up the silent, ghost-like patrol until the approach of dawn and then with the ships in her company withdrew to westward. Disappointment at not having met up with any of the enemy was compensated for by the realization that he is unwilling to risk his present brief security for the risks of attempted escape. There is no hope for a break for freedom for the Huns in encircled Biscay ports whether by land, sea or air.

The captain of "Iroquois", Commander James C. Hibbard, DSC, RCN, accompanied by several of his officers, made a quick trip into Les Sables d'Olonnes, on the Brittany coast one morning to pay his respects to the commandant of the Free French of the Interior. Landing parties from "Iroquois" had been in Les Sable d'Olonnes previously for the purposes of picking up information regarding enemy dispositions and movements but this was the first time that Commander Hibbard had gone along. He and his officers got a royal reception from the inhabitants of this pretty resort.

CITY MAN IN CHARGE

The first of the several landing trips made by parties from "Iroquois" had been to the small ile d'Yeu off the coast of Poitou. It was conducted by Lt. James C. Saks on the 26th of August, the day after the Germans had pulled out.

The Canadians were given a tremendous reception by the four thousand people of the island who were in a bad way. They were all but out of fish, meat and flour. They had no tea, sugar or milk and they were overjoyed when, next day, "Iroquois" sent them a very considerable quantity of stores.

The German garrison had been particularly miserable. Not only had it collected and carried off most of the food but as a parting gesture had rifled the post office of 5,000 francs of public monies.

LETTER OF THANKS

When Lt. Saks and his party left their boat was filled with flowers and fruit. A few days ago he received this letter by a circuitous route from M. Louis Marcel Valle, leader of the French Forces of the Interior on the islands:

"Monsieur,

Our first intimation of your landing on Ile d'Yeu was the cry "The Canadians are here." Nothing could have been more welcome to us.

Our two countries are linked by the ties of sentiment and kin. Your arrival here has not only brought our liberation by our Allies but also our brothers from across the sea.

The atmosphere of our island, poisoned by the presence of the Germans, has been cleared by your arrival.

To me, among my fellow citizens, fell the privilege of being your guide during your short stay here. This has well repaid me for all our sufferings during the past few years.

I wish, heartily, you might have met all members of my family but your duties would not allow that.

Permit me to tell you of the deep impression which you have left with us for supplying us with provisions which we so sorely lacked and for your personal kindness.

Thank you for coming.

Assure your men of our great friendship.

I do hope that the present circumstances will enable me to meet you again since I do not think it likely that I shall ever see your beautiful country.

May God be with you! Long live Canada! Long live the United Nations! Long live France!

Louis Marcel Valle, Ile d'Yeu, Vendee.

A Policyholder Reports

"Some years ago I insured my life with The Mutual Life of Canada and every year since that time I have carefully read the Company's Annual Report because as a policyholder I am, with 180,000 other policyholders, a part-owner of the business.

"I am a practical man, and big figures, as such, do not convey much meaning—I want to know what they mean to me as a policyholder and to my dependents.

"Take 1944 for instance. More new policyholders joined The Mutual Life than during any other year in the Company's long history. That means a stronger company, more people united with me for a common purpose—personal and family protection. (We own 285,000 policies for protection exceeding $723,000,000). It is evidence that the Company has gained a good reputation through its service and outstanding policy results.

"$14,854,000 was paid to policyholders in death claims, matured policies, dividends and other payments last year, benefitting many individuals and families throughout Canada. My policies are still in force and their values are constantly increasing. The assurance of security for the future that they guarantee gives me peace of mind.

"Of the amount paid out by the Company in 1944 I received my share of the dividends, or premium refunds as a substantial reduction of my premium. $93,000,000 have been paid in dividends to policyholders since The Mutual Life was first organized in 1869, which means that the actual cost of insurance has been reduced by this amount.

"I also noted with pleasure that The Mutual Life invested heavily in the two Victory Loans of 1944 and that a large percentage of the assets, which total $252,000,000, is in War and Victory Bonds. I am interested in these assets because they belong to us—the policyholders—and represent the stability behind our insurance.

"It pleases me to know that the Company is conducting its operations from year to year so carefully that the SAFETY of my insurance is unquestioned, and so economically and efficiently that the earnings of the Company give me my insurance at the LOWEST POSSIBLE NET COST.

"You see, life insurance to me is a personal thing, and my Company's reports on its operations for the year mean more than a presentation of figures—to me they mean a strengthening of my present and future security and that of my fellow policyholders and our dependents."

These Sales Do Count

In the first four and one-half days of a five-week sale being conducted by the Food and Allied Industries in Northern Alberta, $44,447 worth of war savings stamps were sold.

The objective set for the drive was $71,250. At the present rate the total would be more than four times that sum when the sale ends.

But that shouldn't dissuade anyone from buying. There is no top limit, and the more money secured by the sale of stamps the less will have to be raised through Victory loans and taxes.

Buying a stamp doesn't seem to give much of a boost to the war fund, but if a million people did that every day across Canada the cumulative total would run to more than $10,000,000 in the five-week period. That is a mark worth shooting at.

More Lots in Demand

City tax collections in Edmonton during January totalled $1,698,940, about $288,000 more than during January of last year. This is dollar proof of the generally understood fact that employment and business conditions are as good, perhaps better, than a year ago.

Of this sum, tax arrears yielded $146,500, a gain of $48,000 approximately. This gain was wholly in respect of land, business tax arrears bringing in almost the same amount as in January 1943. Half the arrears were paid by owners, the other half came from the sale of land which had been forfeited for taxes in years past.

The land sales jumped from $34,158 in January of last year to $73,036. This of course reflects a sharp upward curve in building plans and the trend toward property-ownership. The inference is obvious as to what people are thinking about the future of the city and the advisability of securing a stake now.

Inexcusable Perversity

Our apologies to the visiting curlers. On Wednesday this column, trusting to current appearances, took the liberty of saying that the weather people seemed to have things under better control than on some former occasions when bonspiels were being held here.

Maybe that upset the equilibrium of the elements. Anyway something came unstuck, the frost went out of the air that evening, and Thursday brought spring-like weather which covered the streets with slush, the ice more or less with dampness, and this column with humiliation.

The aforesaid observation is therefore withdrawn. May it be remarked instead that this is no way for Edmonton's climate to act when there are strangers in town who want crisp air and good keen ice.

To Finish the Job

If Marshal Stalin and General Eisenhower have only been each guessing at what the other would do next, they are a pair of good guessers. The way the Russian drive was timed to start pandemonium on the eastern front just when the pick of Nazi reserve divisions were being liquidated among the Ardenne hills smacked of pre-arrangement rather than of mere coincidence.

The conference statement that future military operations are to be carried on as related parts of a general offensive will not convince Von Rundstedt that this isn't merely predicting what has already happened.

What the statement from the Black Sea rendezvous may imply is that the time has come to stop delivering alternate blows on one front after another, and to start both jaws of the giant pincers closing on the Reich concurrently. Both, as a matter of fact, are already moving.

One thing this announcement does immediately. It dispels any lingering hope the Nazis may have had that the Allies would fall out before the pincers close and crush the life out of Hitlerism. That isn't to happen. The declaration is official and unanimous.

Cart Before the Horse

Chief Justice Wendell Farris of the Supreme Court of British Columbia has said that he does not like the atmosphere of many divorce cases which come before him and that he has ordered an investigation into several of them. He declares that British Columbia is not going "to be made another Reno".

With that determination nearly every other judge in Canada, with respect to his own jurisdiction, will be in complete accord.

But it is more than amazing that competent jurists, who appreciate the seriousness of the divorce situation in Canada, can find no other remedy than continued investigation into the bona fides of the cases which come before them.

The rapid increase of divorce in the Canadian courts will never be halted by a more rigid application of the divorce law. That is merely putting the cart before the horse. For abuse of the divorce law is inherent, not in the law itself, but in bad and hasty marriages.

Marriages which come up for legal dissolution are usually those which have been made on brief acquaintance and on the basis of a purely emotional relationship. An ill-considered marriage, where temperamental, religious or cultural discrepancies exist, has about eight chances out of ten of winding up before a judge.

It would seem to be the part of reason therefore to remedy the divorce situation by preventing, so far as is possible, hasty and thoughtless and purely emotional marriages.

The trick, it would appear, would be, not to make divorce easier, but to make marriage harder.

Maybe a few outspoken protests from the judges would spur the lawmakers to make the necessary amendments to the marriage laws.

Dr. Goebbels says he will blow Berlin to pieces rather than let it fall to the Russians. The Allies won't worry about that. They have been trying to do the same thing for four years, and by all accounts have considerably simplified Herr Goebbels' job. What the property-owners, long-time residents, and Germans generally think about the matter might be different. But what they think won't matter. "After me, the deluge" is the Hitler motto.

Sydney reports that Australian flying boats have bottled up a Japanese fleet in a Southwest Pacific port, by barricading the harbor entrance with mines. The squadron is said to include four battleships, an aircraft carrier, six cruisers, and a flotilla of destroyers. That is one wing of the Japanese navy which may have to fight whether it wants to or not—either to get out, or to prevent itself being sunk by bombers.

French troops on the southern end of the West Wall launched a new attack along a 65-mile front. It takes a lot of men to go on the offensive against a hard-fighting enemy on a sector that long, and a lot more to back the attack. There is a hint in this of the manpower the Allies gained when they ran the Nazis out of France and gave the men in that country a chance to get into the fray in an open and organized way. Militarily, as in other respects, France is an active and tremendous asset.

About Mr. King's Reported "All-Canadian" Platform

Argument and Anxiety Meet Disclosure from Quebec

BY HAROLD L. WEIR

Some days ago, L'Action Catholique of Quebec disclosed what purported to be Prime Minister Mackenzie King's new platform for submission to the Canadian people.

It was called an "All-Canadian platform" and there were a number of highly interesting planks in it.

For instance, it was reported that Mr. King proposed to nominate a Canadian as Governor-General; he proposed to adopt a Canadian national anthem and a Canadian flag; he proposed to abolish Privy Council appeals; he proposed to rid himself of "notorious imperialists" in the cabinet; he proposed to shove Canada into the Pan-American Union.

Harold L. Weir

For some inexplicable reason, this report has caused argument and anxiety throughout the whole Dominion.

A feeling has been engendered, perhaps with deliberate malice on the part of L'Action Catholique, that Mr. King is prepared to throw the whole commonwealth connection overboard, a somewhat hackneyed charge which Mr. King's enemies employ with monotonous frequency.

Now I do not believe for one minute that Mr. King proposes to go to the country with any such plan, not because the plan is necessarily iniquitous, but because it is inconceivably silly. And Mr. King is too shrewd and experienced to rest his political fortunes on a platform of no particular interest to the Canadian people.

For after all, a statesman would have to seek far and wide to find subjects in which Canadians are less interested.

I presume most Canadians, in an indifferent sort of way, would rather like to see this country have a distinctive anthem and a distinctive flag. But no one, except a few fanatics, is particularly agitated about it. It is not the British way nor the Canadian way to worship flags or patriotic songs.

We do not need to dramatize these things because we already have drama and pageantry in our government. We take a strictly heraldic view of flags in that we regard them as trade marks rather than sacred symbols.

There is the further point that Mr. King would not need a mandate from the Canadian electorate to authorize a new flag and a new national anthem. He could do it, with the consent of Parliament, at any time.

The reason he has not done it is perhaps because no one has considered it important enough.

The story that the Prime Minister proposes to throw the "notorious imperialists" out of his cabinet is pretty thin for the simple reason that there are no "notorious imperialists" in his cabinet.

And the abolition of Privy Council appeals has been advocated, in the past, just as vigorously by imperialists as by nationalists.

No one would care very much, least of all Great Britain, if that right of appeal were abolished tomorrow.

There are very good arguments for and against it. And not one of them has a patriotic basis.

It is argued,on the one hand, that Privy Council appeals are unduly expensive and pile up unnecesary cost to litigants when any disputed matter could be adjudicated just as effectively by our own Supreme Court.

It is argued, on the other hand, that it is an advantage to have access, in constitutional matters, to a court of supreme jurisdiction which is so remote from the locale of any suit as to be completely disinterested.

These arguments, be it noted, are entirely legal and economic. Canada's sovereignty is not affected, in the slightest degree, whether these appeals are permitted or not.

As a matter of fact, the House of Commons is on record as proposing to abolish this right of appeal in any case and steps will be taken at the close of the war.

It is exceedingly difficult to see why any contemplation of co-operation with the Pan-American Union should take on an anti-British flavor.

Personally, I am convinced that any invitation from the Union should be regarded, at this moment, with some suspicion. For years the Union turned down our more or less indifferent efforts to join because we are not a republic—and have no intention of becoming a republic. Any sudden anxiety for our membership is bound to kindle the notion that some of the South American countries would like to ride through the period of post-war planning on our war prestige.

That, of course, would not be desirable.

Indeed, any proposed alliance should be carefully considered until we are sure what the post-war trends in national alignments are to be.

Nevertheless, there may be trade advantages inherent in Pan-American membership which Canada cannot afford to pass up. That is a decision for the experts. Patriotism is not concerned in the matter at all.

Please understand that I personally am offering no brief for Prime Minister Mackenzie King. But as a matter of common fairness, this effort to smell out a deep anti-British plot in this alleged "All-Canadian platform" should be treated with contempt.

As I said before, it is hard to believe that anyone in his senses would go to the country on items in which the public has such little concern. And Mr. King is undoubtedly in his senses.

It is equally hard to understand how any fanatic could read into this platform, even if it existed, any effort to throw off the commonwealth bond.

Mr. King is sufficiently acquainted with the temper of the Canadian people to know that this country is basically British and intends pretty firmly to remain so.

Smokes for the Troops: Brand New System

Cigarette Sending Is Big Business; Many New Methods

By I.N.S. in The Ottawa Journal

Enough cigarettes are going to Canadian Armed Forces overseas now to supply every member with an average of 15½ a day.

On the face of things this looks to government officials like enough. But they are still ironing out snags that stand in the way of perfect distribution.

This cigarette-sending business is big business, a problem attacked from several angles until now it is near solution by a combined manoeuver of the Post Office, the Armed Forces Postal Corps and the Treasury Board.

In the past there were differing methods. The Americans had a scheme whereby no cigarettes could be sent from home to American soldiers but American cigarettes were on sale in canteens at American prices. The Canadians were getting theirs from home, sent excise tax and customs free by friends and relatives. No Canadian cigarettes were available at canteens to Canadians overseas.

The Americans looked with some jealousy on the Canadian scheme. The Canadians thought the Americans had the better idea. But now, from out of the two methods, a compromise has been worked out for Canadian troops that: (1) retains the link with home, (2) provides cigarettes tax and customs free, (3) enables men overseas to buy their own over there if friends are not coming through from here.

The operations work this way: If you wish to send 300 cigarettes to Private Jones you give your order to a Canadian merchant, pay him $1 and forget all about it.

The cigarette companies collect all these orders in Montreal and make out the address labels. These labels (not packages of cigarettes but merely slips of paper with addresses on them) are then taken by the Canadian Post Office Department and flown overseas to the Postal Corps Tobacco Depot, in England or Italy.

In the meantime the large tobacco companies here have exported by ship to England and Italy massive stocks of cigarettes which are kept in up-to-date storage places by the Postal Corps authorities. As a new plane-load of address labels gets overseas they are pasted on the necessary number of cigarette packets and delivered to Canadian soldiers or airmen in England, France, Italy, Egypt, or wherever they are on duty.

In this way Private Jones gets his cigarettes from home, giving him still another link with friends and relatives. The Americans are unable to do this.

However, there are a good many men overseas who have not got a steady flow of cigarettes coming from home. To meet the needs of these less fortunate men the Postal Corps will now fill orders placed by the soldiers themselves, at the tax-and-customs-free rate of four shillings and sixpence for 300 cigarettes. The soldier or airman sends his money to the Tobacco Depot and his package arrives in due course.

Shipments of cigarettes via the label-sending method have been going to troops in the Mediterranean theatre for six months—a total of 520,000 parcels of 300 cigarettes. For five months the soldier-purchase scheme has been operating in the Mediterranean theatre—a total of 300,645 parcels of 300 cigarettes.

The label-sending method from Canada to the United Kingdom has only been in operation since September, 1944. Since that time nearly 2,000,000 gift parcels have been delivered to members of the forces in the United Kingdom or the northern European theatre. This means 600,000,000 cigarettes.

The soldier-purchase scheme has been operating in the United Kingdom and northern European theatre only since January 15 of this year.

There is a limiting regulation that applies to cigarettes sent from home and bought overseas. The army has ordered that no man be allowed more than 900 cigarettes a month. If more than this number are sent by friends or ordered by the soldier the excess is held by the Postal Corps until the quota regulations permit delivery.

In the Central Mediterranean theatre nearly 17,000 members of the armed forces have a credit of cigarettes. In some cases soldiers have a sufficient credit to cover them to the end of October, 1945. Whenever such a soldier is sent more cigarettes from home he is advised by card that they have been received but are being held until his quota permits delivery.

To build up the vast supply stock of tobacco in the European and Italian depots the Canadian Government guaranteed eventual purchase of $500,000 worth. These shipments were also guaranteed against loss in transit. This is an insurance scheme rather than an outright purchase, however. The purchasing is being done by Canadians at home and overseas.

Government officials state that great care has been taken in the procurement of storage centres to prevent any spoiling of the cigarettes. Army Postal Corps storage personnel have taken on the job, under the supervision of experts. So far, they say, no complaints have been received.

The Postal Corps has also worked out a new scheme for assuring safe delivery of the actual packets. No parcel is delivered to anyone other than for whom it is intended. And in the case of RCAF men serving on RAF stations, or Canadian troops serving with British Army units, the packages are rewrapped in plain paper to conceal the nature of their content and minimize possibility of theft.

The figures stated in all the foregoing pertain, of course, only to cigarettes sent through orders given to tobacco companies in Canada or orders placed overseas by men of the armed forces. In addition to these supplies there is the steady flow of cigarettes in home-made boxes along with food and clothing and there are the cigarettes sent in bulk shipments by private companies caring for employes overseas.

Though the Government enjoys the excise tax, officials point out that Canadians sending cigarettes abroad in home-packed boxes are doing it the costly way. They must pay the full price for cigarettes. If they do it the army way it is both quicker and cheaper.

Authorities feel that they have now a fairly fool-proof system of delivery but they invite detailed complaints so that they may check all non-deliveries. Idle grouching won't help improve the system. Detailed complaints will. There are elaborate plans in the making for a similar depot system to operate in any far Eastern theatre where Canadians will be serving. "We'll deliver anywhere in the world," said a post office man.

Only instances where delivery is not guaranteed is where the man has returned to Canada or become deceased or a prisoner of war. In these cases the parcels are turned over to the Auxiliary Services for general distribution. The cigarettes cannot be returned to Canada as neither excise nor customs duty has been paid on them.

Apart from these cases officials believe deliveries are made without fail. It is suggested that many a parcel unacknowledged has in fact reached its party but man's procrastination in these matters is no less evident overseas than at home. The tobacco companies enclose cards with all packages which the soldier may send home as an acknowledgement of the gift. But you know how it is about writing cards—there's always tomorrow.

Old Man Talks of Real Canada

By CLIFFORD M. SIFTON

QUEBEC CITY—The old man drew his chair up to the hearth of the fine Norman fireplace where the embers glowed richly. The great hotel slept silently. Outside heavy snowflakes drifted down on the ancient roofs as it had every winter since Champlain first raised his habitation here three centuries and some years ago.

It was a time, in that silence, for good talk. It was good talk that came from the old man. Not talk of Quebec politics nor of Quebec economics nor of social problems—we had covered all those over a very good dinner. The old man talked of Canada in terms of men and in terms of soil and lakes and land. The old man talked of the real Canada.

"Well, young man," he began, "you have seen our province in these weeks. You have written stories about us and about the Quebec problem. But now I would like to write a story for you—the last story. Don't take it down—I don't think you will have much trouble remembering it.

"We have heard much talk of disunity in this land of ours these past months. We have disagreed, your people and mine, on things which we think are important. We have disagreed on conscription for instance. We also disagree about the system of education and about provincial autonomy and a dozen or two other things. But are these things Canada? They are not. They are no more the real Canada than those clothes of yours are the real you."

The old man rose from his chair and led me to the great window leaning out over Quebec's rock. We stood looking for a moment.

Across the St. Lawrence a few dim lights marked where the good folk of Levis were preparing for rest. The last ferry was busily bunting its way through the ice-flows moving upriver with the tide.

"There," said the old man waving his hand across the window, "there is Canada—and the national tragedy of these past weeks is that we have forgotten that this is Canada.

"Family quarrels are the bitterest of all quarrels—they can afford to be for the mystic inner unity of a family can withstand almost any quarrel. If love of the shared reality of family is great enough, quarrels need never rend it.

"So it is with this land of our. You have seen Quebec from horse and cutter, from motor car and snowmobile, from train windows. The hills you saw, this Lower St. Lawrence there below us is as much Canada as the Red river; Lake St. John is Canada too and so are the long narrow farms that run back from the river with their houses close together for comfort and safety on just such nights as this. These too are Canada as much as the great tracts of prairie Manitobans call farms. Canada is the stir of spring sweeping up this river to the north and west. Canada is bush and furs and land and wheat and clear crystal lakes. And Canada is the men who live close to these things or men who understand them though they live in bustling cities.

"Canada is not economics nor politics nor sociology—these are but descriptions at that. Science has never grasped the true fact for Canada lives in the souls of her people. Reason can find out nothing about such things—as most reasonable men will tell you.

"So when you look out a window in Winnipeg you see scrub trees and prairie, in Calgary you see the mighty backdrop of the mountains, in Vancouver you see the rolling depths of the Pacific and the tall firs—but all of it is Canada. And if we have the magic of it in our soul we love what we see. And if we love it we know what we mean when we say Canada, just as we know what we mean when we say 'our family.' It is not just a group of relationships, not just a group of provinces.

"But lately our people seem to have forgotten this Canada of which I speak. From coast to coast we have engaged in a bitter quarrel and the heat of our blood is only now becoming normal.

"There at our feet is the St. Lawrence. That same flowing water carried to this rock the little ships of Jacques Cartier—just as it carried Wolfe's fleet. That river means more to Canada than the commerce it carries, more than the electrical power it can create. For that river below us has created men—it has made the people of Canada, it has made Canadians. Men have come to look at the St. Lawrence as they look at the Rockies or the prairies and they have gone away a little different for the sight. For man is nature just as much as a tree is nature.

"It is only when we forget these things that our quarrels can become dangerous. If there were no unity in this country it would not be here. Economists and historians never fail to point out that, by all their laws, there should be no Canada. But Canada stays here long after the economists and historians have been laid in her soil.

"So when you write your last story, tell the people who read it that they need have no fear. Tell them that Canada only now is being born in the minds of her children. Tell them that the faults of colonialism, of imperialism, of foreign loves, the faults of sectionalism and parochialism, the faults of race hatred and the non-Canadians who stir up these things—tell your readers that these are sins against Canada.

"But above all tell your readers (as I have spent my life telling the people of Quebec), tell your readers to look out of the window, and in the light of a prairie moon Canada herself will dispel those sins and we shall grow up together."

SIDE GLANCES—"She says if you'll increase her allowance so she can take skiing lessons she's almost certain to be voted the most accomplished girl in her class!"

Troops Support Britain's Action In Greek Crisis

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters)—"A deep sense of grievance against certain sections of the British press and particularly members of parliament" for their suggestion that recent British intervention in Greece was unnecessary is felt among British soldiers who took part in that campaign, Sir Walter Citrine, head of the delegation which visited Greece to ascertain the position of trade unions there, reported yesterday.

Sir Walter, general secretary of the British Trade Union Council, said troops he interviewed firmly believed that British intervention in Greece prevented wholesale massacres and that earlier intervention would have averted a great number of casualties.

Baronet Performs

LONDON, Feb. 9. — (CP) — A baronet made a successful stage debut as an idle husband when dramatist Frederick Lonsdale presented his new comedy, "Another Love Story," at the Phoenix theatre in London's west end. Sir Campbell Mitchell-Cotts, fresh from three years' war service with the Black Watch, satisfied a life-long ambition to perform in a play.

For Great Heroism

2 Indians and Briton Given Victoria Crosses

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters)—Award of three Victoria Crosses, two of them posthumous, was announced last night. Two went to Indian troops for gallantry in Burma and the third to a British tank officer in Italy.

One Indian, Subadar Ram Sarup Singh, although badly wounded, led a charge against the advancing Japanese, bayonetting four himself. His action checked the Japanese.

As he lay dying, the Indian drew the enemy fire to himself, calling to his men: "You carry on. Finish the devils."

KILLED BY BOMB

The other posthumous award was to Capt. John Henry Brunt, MC, killed by a mortar bomb the day after winning the VC. He had just celebrated his 22nd birthday.

Standing on the turret of a tank, he had directed a machine-gun fire at advancing Germans during an enemy counter-attack in Italy. Then he jumped off to stalk enemy parties armed with bazookas. He killed a number and his action caused the enemy to withdraw.

The VC who survives is Sepoy Bhandari Ram, also of the Indian Army. His courage enabled his platoon to take a post in the Arakan area of Western Burma, which was the key to the whole enemy position.

SEVERELY WOUNDED

Severely wounded by bullets and grenade splinters, Ram crawled up a precipitous slope along a narrow ridge to within five yards of a Japanese machine-gun post. He then threw a grenade into the position, killing the enemy gunner and two other men.

These awards bring to 122 the number of Victoria Crosses won in this war. Eight have gone to Canadians.

MEASLES.—Blonde Marie McDonald of the movies has contracted the measles and a lot of people might be endangered. Her doctor has sent out a warning to watch for spots to Allied soldiers who were fortunate (?) enough to kiss Marie during her recent personal appearance in Chicago.

Urge Steps to End Butter Rationing

REGINA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Butter manufacturers should see that steps are taken to increase butter production sufficiently to bring rationing to an end, A. S. Thurston, of Meaford, Ont., secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Creamery Association, said yesterday in an address to the Saskatchewan Dairy Association convention.

"There has been a tendency, by the (Federal) Dairy Products Board, to ignore operators in respect to their own business. By accepting or concurring in a butter price schedule which put Ontario at the foot of the class, we have collaborated in developing a condition of butter shortage which necessitated rationing, and this gave opportunity for repeated cuts in the already meagre ration.

"This built up a vast volume of consumer resentment across Canada . . . and it behooves us to see that the condition is corrected at the earliest possible time."

Vice - President Of CPR to Retire

MONTREAL, Feb. 9—(CP)—E. P. Flintoft, vice-president and general counsel of Canadian Pacific Railway company, will retire Feb. 15, D. C. Coleman, CPR chairman and president, announced yesterday. Mr. Flintoft has been with the company for 36 years. He will be succeeded by G. A. Walker, who has been general solicitor here since 1936, with F. C. S. Evans taking the post of general solicitor. D. I. McNeill, assistant general solicitor at Winnipeg, will become assistant general solicitor at the Montreal head offices.

It Worked!

IN GERMANY, Feb. 9—(AP)—Ordered to take a German position when they were so close to the German lines that shooting would have brought them under direct fire, United States troops stretched an old inner tube between two trees and hurled grenades slingshot fashion. It worked.

Capture of the Scheldt approaches to Antwerp is an important achievement. Situated 40 miles up the Scheldt River, Antwerp is continental Europe's second largest port, with Hamburg ranking first.

Nazi Grain Stocks Are Commandeered To Produce Bread

LONDON, Feb. 9—(AP)—The Nazi government commandeered all German grain stocks for bread yesterday as the food crisis increased within Germany.

A decree broadcast by the German ministry of agriculture ordered peasants to surrender immediately all wheat, barley and rye for bread production, even if their livestock should starve as a result.

Hundreds of thousands of refugees have streamed into the interior to escape the Russian armies.

Urges "Big Three" Meet More Often

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(AP)—Thomas E. Dewey declared last night that "rare" meetings of the big three are not enough—that the United States must be dealt in every day on conferences reshaping the world. The New York governor, in his first out-of-state appearance since he was defeated for the presidency in November, pledged Republican support to President Roosevelt and his aides "in every step they take which advances the cause of a just and lasting peace."

Withdraw Threat

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., Feb. 9—(CP)—Threat of a general strike of Nova Scotia miners was withdrawn yesterday when Premier A. S. MacMillan agreed to a government conference with United Mine Workers of America (CCL) representatives over conditions at Donkin, N.S.

Puppet Govt. Flees

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9—(AP)—The Puppet Philippine government headed by President Jose Laurel has fled from Manila to northern Luzon, the Japanese Domei agency said yesterday in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

Patterson Says CCF Is Trying To Welsh Debt

REGINA, Feb. 9—(CP)—The dispute between Saskatchewan and the federal government over settlement of 1938 seed grain advances waxed hot here yesterday with former Liberal Premier W. J. Patterson charging the provincial government with trying to "welsh" and Provincial Treasurer Fines describing the province as "the protector of the farmers."

Mr. Patterson, who is opposition leader in the legislature, said in a statement that CCF Premier T. C. Douglas' attitude toward the Dominion was "Most peculiar coming from one who has for more than six months now been trying to welsh on a legal and binding agreement made between the Dominion and province."

SAID "CHEAP, IRRELEVANT"

Mr. Fines, also in a statement, said the cry of "repudiation" raised by the Dominion in respect to the debt "is cheap, irrelevant and libelous."

"In the first place, the province of Saskatchewan is not the debtor but has stepped in as the protector of the debtor—the farmers and the municipalities—against a creditor deaf to any appeal beyond the pound-of-flesh legalities."

The province and the Dominion guaranteed seed grain advances to farmers in 1938. When the loans came due on Oct. 31, 1944, the province said it could not pay and the Dominion paid the banks $16,468,852 on Dec. 11.

His proposals for other settlement having been rejected by the province, Mr. Ilsley has said he will collect the debt in part through withholding moneys due the province under a wartime tax agreement by which the Dominion took over provincial income and corporation taxes.

The province has asked for a tribunal to establish whether the Dominion has the power to withhold such grants, and in the meantime is checking on possible new sources of taxation revenue in case the tax agreement with the Dominion is abandoned.

Urges Immediate Dom.-Prov. Meeting

VICTORIA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Harold E. Winch (CCF-Vancouver East), official opposition leader in the British Columbia legislature, said yesterday the provincial government should insist on the calling of a Dominion-provincial conference immediately.

Speaking in the throne speech debate yesterday, Mr. Winch said there was need for modernization of the constitution so that the provinces and the federal government might know their own spheres.

"The constitutional machinery at present is inadequate and defective. A new constitution must be geared to the modern needs."

He said that many matters mentioned in the throne speech met with the "wholehearted approval of the CCF," but there was "nothing" in the speech to indicate any indication of solving current problems "let alone those to follow the war."

Calls For Extension Of Technical Pay For Men Overseas

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9—(CP)—Peter Stursberg, veteran war correspondent for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said in an interview yesterday that there should be an extension of technical pay for men in the Canadian forces overseas.

"Why can't our boys in the front line receive technical pay for being crack machine gunners or artillery men or snipers, like the chap in the rear line who gets that extra pay for being a good mechanic?"

Mr. Stursberg addressed the Winnipeg Canadian club yesterday speaking on the Italian campaign and the capture of Rome.

"Basis For Peace" Group Is Organized

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Under the chairmanship of Chief Justice W. B. Farris of British Columbia, the "Basis for Peace" committee of the Canadian Bar Association held an organizational meeting here yesterday. A general meeting will be held Saturday. Further meetings of the committee will be held from time to time. Mr. Justice J. C. McRuer of Toronto and A. Beaulieu of Montreal are vice-chairmen of the committee; associate secretaries are Andre Taschereau of Quebec and A. W. Rogers, Toronto.

IT MAY BE A DOG'S LIFE, BUT IT'S SELDOM A DULL LIFE

In the news again are recently married Col. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the U.S. president, and actress Faye Emerson Roosevelt. U.S. navy seaman Leon LeRoy said that he and two other servicemen were "bumped" off a plane to make way for the Roosevelt dog, travelling to Hollywood.

This is the dog, an English bull mastiff, which is said to have received "A" priority, displacing LeRoy, going home to see his ill mother, and two others. LeRoy's leave was extended.

Gloria Swanson, former star of the movies, is shown in her dressing room with "Lochinvar", young pup who was rescued from the Washington dog pound and given a walk-on part in a new play starring Miss Swanson, currently appearing in the U.S. capital.

Squelch Rumors Dominion Given Lend-Lease Aid

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(CP)—Canada's independence from any United States lend-lease operations was reiterated in a lengthy statement issued yesterday by the foreign economic administration in an effort to meet "rumors, questions and mis-statements" on operations of the lend-lease program initiated in March 1941.

"Canada is not a recipient of lend-lease aid", the statement declared at one point. "Our commercial exports to Canada have jumped from a 1936-38 pre-war rate of $453,700,008 to $1,237,900,000 in 1943".

RUMORS ATTACKED

The report attacked "one of the most persistent rumors" that butter was sent to Canada with a lend-lease label and bought there by American tourists at low cost and without ration points. All butter shipped on lend-lease was sent to Russia for the Soviet army, the report said.

Also dealt with was the rumor that "we have furnished Canada planes as lend-lease and received nothing at all from her."

The statement said "we have made available some American planes for the training on Canadian airfields of British fliers and fliers of other United Nations who fled their homelands in Europe when the Nazis invaded. These boys came to Canada anxious to participate in the fight as pilots and our planes were a contribution to their training."

The statement referred to a story "repeated with many variations"—that British and Canadian commercial airlines were expanding their operations by using equipment obtained under lend-lease, and that Britain used for domestic commercial operations machines requisitioned from American air lines.

No requisitioned airline planes were used by any agency other than the U.S. Air Transport Command, the reports said, and "no planes have been furnished to Canada under lend-lease for use by the Canadian government or Canadian airlines."

Three Canadians Among 23 Killed In Plane Crash

WILMINGTON, Sussex, Eng., Feb. 9—(CP)—Three Canadians were among 26 air force men killed Tuesday when an aircraft crashed into the Sussex downs, it was announced yesterday. They were FO. K. G. Forseth, Kingsford, Sask., navigator of the plane, Flt. Sgt. R. A. Brock, wireless air gunner from Prince Albert, Sask., and LAC. S. M. Smith, Toronto, a passenger. Seventeen members of the RAF, two of the RAAF, and one of the RNZAF, made up the remainder.

Cancel Inquest In B.C. Murder

VICTORIA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Fear the hearing might prejudice the position of Johnson Johnny James, 33, Indian cannery worked charged with murder, caused Attorney-General R. L. Maitland to cancel the inquest yesterday into the death of Pte. Clarence George John Dick, 25, Indian who was killed Sunday on the West Saanich Indian reserve. James appeared in police court Monday and Wednesday on the murder charge. Preliminary hearing is expected to proceed next Wednesday.

To Save Vital Transport

Believe Japan Introducing Policy Of Letting Garrisons Stand Alone

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Feb. 9—(CP-Aneta)—Japan is introducing a policy of letting its various garrison forces stand on their own legs to repel Allied attacks, informed observers believe.

Consequently, they believe, it is to be expected that future assaults against enemy strongholds in Burma, The Netherlands East Indies, Indo-China and the Malayan Peninsula all will be met with suicidal defence—but only by those resources available on the spot.

The policy has been forced on them by losses of transport and by the effectiveness of Allied sea and air power which has closed the supply ports in parts of the Japanese "co-prosperity sphere."

Informed circles stress that Japanese power must not be under-estimated because of recent reverses.

The forces garrisoning outlying bastions are regarded by the Japanese command as less valuable than regaining transport and air power which are needed for the showdown in China, when it comes.

140 B.C. Draftees Now Rounded Up

VANCOUVER, Feb. 9—(CP)—About 140 of 250 deserters from the home defence army in British Columbia have been captured or returned voluntarily, it was learned last night.

Officials at Pacific Command headquarters have not revealed figures on the number still at large. They had no comment to make on the report.

It was learned, however, that deserters are reporting at the Little Mountain barracks here at the rate of two or three a day. No disciplinary action is being taken against the men in Vancouver. They are shipped to their units in Eastern Canada.

The deserters, object of a widespread hunt throughout British Columbia and the western and midwestern states of the United States, were first reported absent without leave from their units following Christmas and New Year's leaves.

Army officials said the men cannot be dealt with here because all their papers went east when their units were moved and the men are subject to discipline by their respective commanding officers.

General Sansom Is Now Visiting Adriatic Front

WITH THE CANADIANS IN THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Feb. 9—(CP)—Lt. Gen. F. W. Sansom, Canada's inspector general of reinforcements, arrived at a frontline airport yesterday after a tour of Canadian reinforcement and administrative installations in Rome and Naples areas. He will visit the Adriatic front briefly.

Accompanied from Rome by Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes, commander of the Canadian Corps, Gen. Sansom toured Ravenna after lunch visiting its historic churches and monuments and the rest facilities functioning for Canadian officers and men.

High on his program is a visit of the 5th (Armored) Division, formerly known as "Sansom's Roughriders", when he was its commander.

Carpenter Is Given 15 - Year Sentence For Killing Woman

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Stanley Augustine, 43-year-old Polish carpenter convicted last week of manslaughter for the bayonet-slaying of Mrs. Nellie Casovan, yesterday was sentenced to 15 years in penitentiary. Augustine was charged with murder by the Crown but the jury found him not guilty on this charge. In finding the accused guilty of manslaughter, the jurors made a strong recommendation for mercy. Mrs. Casovan's body was found in her blood-spattered bedroom here last Oct. 16 following a visit by Augustine to her home.

Young Men Urged Become Surveyors

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—H. F. Beresford of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Institute of Surveying, said at its 38th annual meeting yesterday the institute should explore means of attracting young men into the profession. Average age of practising surveyors in the western provinces was in the 50's. There was a shortage of surveyors, due not only to war conditions, but also to insufficient remuneration and lack of recognition.

Dinner Party

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, members of the cabinet and their wives last night were guests of the Governor-General and Princess Alice at a dinner party.

Says Partnership Of Wartime Must Continue in Peace

TORONTO, Feb. 9—(CP)—Premier Drew in an address last night strongly criticized "those who have introduced strange doctrines" into Canada and declared the Dominion must maintain her strong alliance with Great Britain as part of the British Empire in peace as she has done in war.

Speaking to a dinner meeting of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies he paid tribute to the gallantry of the Russians but said Canada should never underrate her own war contribution, nor the contribution of Britain or the United States.

That three-way partnership must continue after the war for future peace. In that close association lay the "hope of the world."

Courtesy Call

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—H. L. Keenleyside, Canadian ambassador, yesterday made the customary courtesy call on Foreign Secretary Ezequiel Padilla and left with him a copy of the brief address he will make when he presents his credentials next week to President Avila Camacho.

Killed in Raid

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Swedish correspondents reported last night that Roland Freisler, president of Hitler's people's court, which has sentenced thousands of Germany's enemies to death, was killed in Saturday's great air raid on Berlin.

Larger Families Urged in Quebec

QUEBEC, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Wilfrid Lacroix, independent member of parliament for Quebec Montmorency, said at nearby St. Gregoire De Montmorency Wednesday night that "the French Canadian race has grown under the shadow of the parish church and if one day we abandon the Catholic Church or neglect the practice of our religious traditions we will lose our ethnical entity."

Mr. Lacroix was addressing a meeting at the parish hall called by parish priest Albert Roy on the occasion of the family week at St. Gregoire. The week is devoted to encouraging family life.

Rene Chaloult, Nationalist member of the Quebec legislature for Quebec County, also addressed the meeting saying "We already have large families but we must have even larger in order to fulfil the mission God gave us in North America, which is to hold high the torch of the Catholic and French civilization."

For Tourist Business

Big Improvement Program For Jasper National Park Asked in Brief to Ottawa

Asserting that next to agriculture the development of the tourist business is the most potent post-war economic weapon for Edmonton, central and northern Alberta, the Jasper Park Development Committee has submitted a brief to the Dominion Department of Mines and Resources seeking major improvements in Jasper National Park, designed to attract tourist trade.

"FLUMMOXED".—"I'm flummoxed," says Screen Star Ida Lupino, above, meaning that she's all confused about her future. She wants to quit acting and become a full-fledged writer, because, she says, she's tired of getting up at 5 a.m. and starting a day of dashing hither and yon about the studio.

It is stated in the brief that Jasper Park is the keystone of tourist development for this area, and it is imperative that the improvements sought should be carried out in the interests of the citizens of central and northern Alberta.

The Jasper Park Development committee is comprised of representatives of the City of Edmonton, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Alberta Motor Association, Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, Northern Alberta Fish and Game Protective League, the National Parks Highway Association, and the YM CA.

SURVEY CONDUCTED

Recently the committee made a survey of needed improvements in the park, and the brief submitted to the Dominion department of mines and resources was predicated on the findings of the committee which were ratified unanimously by the organization as a whole.

The brief also has been sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's office, and to other governmental departments, to all western members of parliament, and to members of the legislatures of Alberta and British Columbia. It is being sent also to chambers of commerce and boards of trade in central and northern Alberta with a request for supporting action.

Among the recommendations made by the committtee are that a town planning scheme be undertaken to include the erection of a modern administration building, a recreation centre, including bowling greens, tennis courts, enclosed swimming pool, curling and skating rinks, a library and museum to be built in a central location.

It was recommended also that a community hall, Canadian Legion and church building sites be suitably provided, and that the present administration building be removed and that its site be converted into a park.

The construction of a modern information bureau and the screening of the railway yards by planting trees between the right of way and the town streets also was recommended.

INDUSTRIAL AREA

It was also recommended that government stores, garage, shops, and equipment buildings should be grouped in an industrial area suitable landscaped, and that the coal ramp and chutes and the water tank in the railway yards be replaced by modern and less unsightly equipment.

An extensive program of hard surfacing streets and lanes within the town and on roads to the outstanding scenic viewpoints, including Maligne lake was also recommended. This program, it was stated, should include the approaches to the town.

The brief asked that consideration be given to the construction of a new road from a point on the old lodge road, south-west of the golf course, over the bench on Signal Mountain to join the Maligne Canyon road north of the lodge.

This road would give visitors an excellent view of the lodge and grounds, Pyramid Mountain, Lac Beauvert, Lakes Edith and Annette, and the golf course without infringing upon the privacy of lodge patrons. It would also be short enough to permit train passengers en route through to enjoy a motor trip of great scenic beauty between arrival and departure of trains.

It was recommended also that a scenic road be constructed to encompass Pyramid and Patricia lakes.

EXPAND AUTO CAMP

Expansion of the auto and tourist camp or bungalow accommodation and picnic ground was also recommended, and it was suggested that locations should be carefully chosen to prevent mutilation of natural scenic vistas.

The committee recommended also that encouragement be given to the construction of family summer homes on the shores of Lakes Pyramid and Edith on a long-term lease or rental basis.

Extension to the existing fish hatchery and sport fishing facilities also was recommended, and that ski runs be provided on the slopes of Mount Whistler and Mount Edith Cavell.

Construction was advocated of a modern airport, including administration and hangar buildings, lighted runways, to be operated by the Dominion government on the site of the present airport approximately eight miles north of the townsite, and that emergency landing strips be located on air routes to Jasper from the east and west.

It was recommended also that historic sites be accurately marked and suitably designed signs be used more freely for directional purposes and to attract attention to viewpoints, names of mountains, lakes and streams.

The provision of more adequate protection, especially for the safety of children, at scenic points also was advocated.

PLAN NEW BUILDING

Since this brief was submitted announcement has been made by Major J. A. Wood, superintendent of the park, that the Dominion government intends, as part of its post-war program, to erect a new administration building, establish a recreation centre embodying most of the recommendations made in the brief, create an industrial centre in which government workshops will be grouped, and to hard-surface the streets of Jasper, and to embark upon a comprehensive program of construction of scenic highways.

Members of the Jasper Park Development Committee conferred Tuesday evening with Major Wood, who is a visitor in Edmonton.

MEMBERS OF THE JASPER PARK DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE, who recently made a survey of needed improvements in the park, designed to attract tourist trade. The result of the survey has been compiled in a brief which was recently submitted to the Dominion Department of Mines and Resources. Members of the committee are: Top row—E. L. Loveseth, W. F. H. Mason, C. D. Jacox, G. P. Newton, Alderman A. Bisset, KC. Second row—W. F. Empey, J. G. Butler, G. J. Keltie, Chas. H. Grant, R. G. Dilke, J. H. Fulton. Front row—A. Farmilo, James Walker, R. A. New Bus Route To Calder Area Is Considered

Instructions were issued to the city commissioners Thursday by the city council's transportation committee to bring in a report on the feasibility of establishing a bus route to Calder from 118 avenue up 97 street to 127 avenue and then west to a terminus to be determined.

The service would be given only during the morning and evening hours and is designed to meet the transportation needs of workers in the CNR Calder shops.

The commissioners were instructed also to investigate and report on the feasibility of providing service from the Calder street car line terminus to the Dunvegan yards.

SERVICE REQUESTED

This action was taken by the committee following representations by workers at the Calder shops and the Dunvegan yards. It was stated that at least 180 workers would avail themselves of the facilities, and it was intimated also that an increased fare would be paid willingly for such service.

The committee requested also that the city commissioners submit reports on all bus routes for which petitions have been received, setting out the probability of revenues derived from these routes meeting operating costs, and other data which would enable the committee to deal with the requests.

This request was made following a statement by Mayor John W. Fry that proposed extensions to the street railway service should be dealt with in the broad view of post-war development, and the conversion from street car to trolley bus operation.

Members of the delegation were requested to furnish the committee with data of the number of workers who would use the proposed Calder and Dunvegan service, and the city commissioners were instructed to prepare a questionnaire setting out the information required from the delegation.

New Amendments To City Charter Will Be Sought

Power to regulate or prohibit the keeping of any wild or domestic animals or poultry in any specified part, or parts, of the city where, in the opinion of city council, such keeping is likely to cause a nuisance, is being sought in a charter amendment recommended by the bylaws committee of city council.

The committee also recommended that if in the opinion of city council a building or structure, by reason of its ruinous or dilapidated condition, is seriously detrimental to the amenities of the neighborhood, or seriously depreciates the value of land or buildings in the vicinity, the council may make an order requiring the owner, within a period of time which shall not be less than three months, to remedy the condition as directed by the order, or to demolish and remove the building or structure.

If the owner does not comply with the terms of the order within the specified time the building inspector shall have the building or structure removed.

RIGHT OF APPEAL

Right of appeal to city council against an order to renovate or remove ruinous or dilapidated buildings is contained in the amendment, as is also provision for appeal against council's decision.

Another amendment recommended by the committee includes the granting of power to the city council to pass bylaws for the establishment, maintenance and operation of a plan of group, life, accident or sickness insurance for the benefit of all civic employees, or any class of civic employees, and to make a grant toward such an insurance plan.

It was recommended also that city council seek through charter amendment power to promote in the incorporation of, or directly apply to incorporate under any appropriate act, or statute, a limited liability company for the purpose of carrying on business as a "lending institution" or as a "limited dividend housing corporation" as defined in the National Housing Act, 1944, with all the powers necessary or incidental to such purposes, and to subscribe and pay in cash or otherwise for shares in the capital of such company.

Power is sought also to permit the City of Edmonton to act as a "limited dividend housing corporation", and within the city to construct, hold and manage low rental housing projects.

An amendment to the charter was recommended in connection with business tax assessment which will provide that a manufacturer not actually manufacturing his products within the city, but wholly or mainly dealing as a wholesale dealer or distributor, shall be considered a dealer or distributor for business tax purposes.

EXTRA TRAM FARES

The committee recommended also that a charter amendment be sought which would permit the charging of a fare greater than the five-cent universal rate where street railway system services are extended. This amendment is sought to permit the city to give bus services to outlying districts.

An amendment was recommended also which is designed to give council power to pass bylaws for the purpose of eliminating or mitigating within the city the mosquito nuisance, insect pests harmful to the growth or development of trees, shrubs or any vegetable or plant life.

Alberta Planning Future Expansion Health Services

The province of Alberta has pioneered and developed many health services which later were adopted by other provinces, Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health told members of the Rotary club when he addressed the luncheon meeting Thursday in the Macdonald hotel. Subject of his talk was "Public Health in Alberta". He also indicated that plans for future expansion of health services will keep Alberta in the foreground of the health picture in Canada.

Health education is a significant part of the provincial program, Dr. Bow said, and has been developed tremendously during the last 20 years.

In co-operation with municipalities, Alberta has set up 16 public health units throughout the province and when wartime difficulties have been surmounted it is hoped to have 40 such units established, the speaker said.

VALUABLE WORK

"Alberta was the first province to set up these health units" he said, "and through them a great deal of valuable work can be done in connection with health education and preventive medicine.

Other firsts for the provincial department of health include the free maternity hospitalization, municipal hospitals, district nurses, mental hygiene, eugenics, and the public health entomology division.

Dr. Bow said that great strides have been made recently in the field of mental hygiene and that expansion of this service is also planned for the future.

"All these services are being carried on at the present time," he said, "but the logical way to do it is through the public health units and when the required number of these have been set up much of the education work can be carried on through these centres."

Veterans' Classes Are Under Way Here

Ex-servicemen attending special classes in the old Technical school to prepare for university entrance probably will be ready to advance to the senior institution in the fall, according to Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education.

Approximately 30 returned men are taking the courses, which are designed to qualify them for university entrance in the shortest possible time.

Special aptitude tests are given veterans applying to take the course, and in this way it is determined what subjects are most needed.

The tests for admission are held twice a month, Dr. McNally said. Applications to enroll are still being received.

The government decided to set up the special classes to give veterans advancement in subjects they need, instead of sending them to regular day or night school classes. Only subjects needed to bring a student's qualifications up to Grade 12 level are taught.

Dr. McNally said the education department was "quite pleased" with progress being made on the course.

Heavy Fighting

CHUNGKING, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Heavy fighting is in progress between Chinese and Japanese forces at a point six miles south of the important Wolfram mining centre of Tayu in southern Kiangsi Province, toward which the invaders headed after capturing the United States air base site at Namyung in Kwangtung Province, the Chinese high command announced last night.

Mystery Wreckage Is Believed Craft Used by Haliburton

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Possibility that the skeleton of a mystery boat which was washed up at suburban Pacific beach by heavy seas of Feb. 2 may be the wreckage of Richard Haliburton's Chinese junk was expressed yesterday by K. M. Walker, marine surveyor.

Haliburton and his 14 crewmen presumably perished March 24, 1939, while en route from Hong Kong to San Francisco.

Sections of the keel, keelsons and ribs of the derelict are under a pier at Pacific Beach. Walker said no boat like it had been built in North America for at least 50 years. Neither do North American boat builders use bronze fasteners such as were found on the wreckage, Walker explained.

Walker said he was convinced the boat was built in the Orient.

Allowances Bill Read in Quebec

QUEBEC, Feb. 9.—(CP)—A bill entitled "Family Allowance Act" which would allow the Quebec provincial government to make "any agreement deemed necessary" with the federal government for the establishment of a system of family allowances, was given first reading yesterday as the first session of the 32nd legislature got underway. The measure said: "It is desirable to establish a system of family allowances in co-operation with the federal authorities and without impairing the constitutional rights of the province."

Protest Treatment Indians Overseas

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters)—Strong representations on the position of Indians overseas, particularly about the treatment of Indians living in South Africa, will be made by Sir Zafrullah Khan, 52-year-old leader of the Indian delegation to the Commonwealth's relations conference which opens here Feb. 17. Sir Zafrullah declared yesterday that Indians in South Africa were almost in the position of being stateless people with no vote and no defined residential areas.

ROGERS' GOLDEN SYRUP

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

ALTHOUGH E. B. Olsen's Royal curlers didn't mark up an eight yesterday, they did the next best thing when they collected seven in their North West Brewery event clash with S. Harper of Provost, at the Royal on the 11:30 draw. They also had a five in the same game.

There was only one absentee when third-man Percy Clement called the roll at the conclusion of the third end and that was one of the lead rocks which had been passed through. Skip Harper landed his first safety in the house, but Olsen nudged it out and drew in with his second. A. W. Van Camp and Stewart Smith are the other two members of the Olsen rink, winners of seven out of eight games to date.

Fred Kemp of the Royal and Bob Edwards of Alberta Ave., who advanced into the eights of the Grand Challenge on Thursday, will fight it out for a slice of jewelry in the premier event. The winner will meet the survivor of Robertson versus Runyon, the latter being one of the three undefeated skips in the 'spiel.

FOUR EXTRA-ENDERS

FOUR extra-enders were played on Thursday. Bert Robinson of Jasper came up with an 11-10 win over W. Padavell, Alberta Ave., on the 9 o'clock draw. Runyon of Viking scuttled the Manahan rink 8-6 in the Challenge on the 4:30. Charlie Cairns won 10-9 from Hanbidge, Kerrobert, and Harold Ritchie edged out the Bert Ross rink, skipped by Gordon Hauff, also by 10-9 on the 7 o'clock.

Billy Rose lost another game yesterday, this one to W. Gutowski of Daysland, who is out in the eights of the King Edward. Rose later beat Oel of Acme. Billy had three 11-8 wins on Wednesday. Gutowski has seven victories so far.

A. Banks of Forestburg added another to his list and now has eight wins, his only loss to date being in the Calgary Brewing (Visitors) and it didn't come until he had chalked up two decisions in that event. Banks is in the eights of the Challenge and his next opponent there is the unbeaten Glen Williams of Calgary. The strong Forestburg quartet also is in the 16's of the King Edward.

Bob Edwards (Alberta Ave.) and C. L. Larson of LaGlace were drawn for their rubber game after all. Already having met twice and with honors even, this pair turned up in the same bracket in the Gas Company event, with hostilities scheduled to commence at 9 o'clock this morning. Mah Bow and his all-Chinese rink won two yesterday.

CANADIANS LEAVE SUNDAY

CANADIANS play South Side tomorrow night in their final league appearance before playoffs and they leave the next morning for Vancouver where exhibition games are billed for Monday and Wednesday.

Evidently that EAC-Canadian clash on Wednesday was quite a session. Canadians drew a big hand from the crowd when they immediately congratulated their rivals after they had snapped Canucks' 14 - game unbeaten string.

"That was the finest bit of sportsmanship this scribbler has seen for a long time," reports Cecil Goldstick, who covered the game for The Bulletin. "There wasn't a single beef in Canadians dressing room after the game. Coach Clarence Moher merely drawled 'we can't win them all' and later he and Coach Bill Drever talked it over in fine fashion".

C. Roe Doesn't Want Bookmaking On West Circuit

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Charles Roe, assistant manager of R. J. Speers Corporation, said in an interview Wednesday night any racing association would likely endorse any steps which would eliminate bookmaking.

He was commenting on a Calgary report that a number of Alberta thoroughbred horse breeders have formed an association which will apply to the provincial legislature at the next session for legislation to permit them to take bets on horse racing in downtown Edmonton and Calgary for direct transmission to the pari-mutuels at the race track when racing is in progress.

He said that as far as he knew it was illegal to take wagers any place but on the course during the hours of racing and that the question was covered in a federal amendment to the criminal code.

"I would be, and I think any racing association would be, heartily in accordance with any steps taken to do away with book-making," he said.

Sewell Is Just Getting Started As Big Leaguer

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Truett (Rip) Sewell, 21-game pitching winner for Pittsburgh Pirates in 1943 and 1944, has arrived at an age when most moundsmen would be willing to call it a career.

He will be 36 years old May 11, an age past that at which Dizzy Dean, Lefty Gomez and other mound notables of the last decade had fooled their last batter. But Sewell says he's just getting started as a big league pitcher.

"After all I won 42 ball games in the last two years," he said, "and I'm not bragging a bit when I say that a pitcher with that kind of record isn't exactly on the down grade."

He attributes a lot of his success he has "a lot of fun with the to the "blooper" pitch, and says 'blooper' or 'ephus' ball as Al Lopez calls it."

"The fans," he said, "get a big kick out of it and even members of the opposing team have been known to yell at me to 'throw me one of them things'."

Sewell is one of the late-generation major leaguers who believe in staying in top condition during the off-season with a heavy schedule of golf, hunting and outdoor sports.

"It's much easier," he said, "staying in shape than trying to get back into condition."

Modern Electrical Basketball Scoreboard Built by Student

Don Brown borrowed his idea from a pin ball machine.

By JIMMY CALPIN

SCRANTON, Feb. 9.—Donald Brown several weeks ago observed that West Scranton High needed a modern basketball scoreboard.

Borrowing his idea from a pin ball machine, Don Brown 17-year-old electrical wizard, used the parts of a discarded set for his wiring. The rest was easy aside from the fact that he had to work for more than an hour each day after school.

The board, up-to-date in every detail, was built at a cost of approximately $20 to the school, represents a saving, or rather a Donald Brown donation, of several hundred dollars. It is operated from the scorers' table.

For football, young Brown, who is enrolled in the practical arts course, hooked up a loud-speaking system at Athletic Park, giving West a special service that neither of the other two Scranton high schools had for their home engagements. He also works on the public address system in an auditorium and for public concerts in the summer.

West Scranton High may not have the best basketball team in the Lackawanna League, but the manner in which its students support their representatives cannot be challenged by any other institution in the land.

Calgarians Run String To 9 Games

AFTER registering eight successive victories, the A. M. Dalgleish rink from Grande Prairie ran into two setbacks on Thursday, but three others, two of them visitors, were still undefeated at the close of the fourth day's play in the 28th annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association.

Glen Williams of Calgary with nine straight wins, C. A. Runyon with eight and George McLaughlin of the Royal with seven in a row maintained their perfect records. Williams won two games, while Runyon and McLaughlin played just one.

All brackets in the eights of both Grand Challenge and Bank of Montreal events and two in the King Edward were filled yesterday. Reading from the top down in the Challenge are Robertson (Granite), Runyon, (Viking), Kemp (Royal), Edwards (Alberta Ave.), McLaughlin (Royal), Willis (Royal), Banks (Forestburg), Williams (Calgary).

In Bank of Montreal eights (also from the top) are: Gregor (Alberta Ave.), Yakabuski (Tofield), Purvis (Crossfield), Croft (Granite), Nisbet (Thistle), Gilchrist (Sangudo), Shaw (Alberta Ave), Dark (Royal).

Only five draws were completed Thursday, the chinook forcing cancellation of the sixth. A new competition, the Gas Company, was opened on the 9 a.m. draw today. Runyon is scheduled to meet the Aspol rink from Pouce Coupe on ice No. 2 (Alberta Ave.) on the 11:30, and six games going into the eights of the T. Eaton also are listed on that draw.

Williams marked up his victories at the expense of Hargreaves of Jasper whom he defeated, 10-8 and Dalgleish of Grande Prairie.

He beat the Peace River skip 7-6 after a nip and tuck affair in the Visitors competition on the 2 o'clock and followed with a 10-8 decision over Hargreaves in the Challenge on the 4:30.

Runyon-handed Cliff Manahan of the Royal his second defeat of the 'spiel after an extra end on the 4:30, the final score being 8-6 and the reverse dropping Manahan from the Challenge, rather an unusual experience for the Royal curlers. Runyon now will meet Robertson of the Granite to go into the fours. Robertson reached the eights by defeating Dalgleish 9-8 on the 4:30 draw.

McLaughlin secured his bracket in the Challenge eights by eliminating Whit Matthews 8-7 on the 4:30.

E. B. Olsen of the Royal added two more wins to his list, both being in the Northwest Brewery his victims being Harper of Provost and Merner of Wetaskiwin.

Gutowski of Daysland marked up a pair of wins, defeating Billy Rose 12-10 in the King Edward to go into the eights, and Jessup in the Northwest Brewery.

Parm Robarts also picked off a pair of victories in that event. He beat Kelly of Ponoka 10-6 and Metz of Hardisty 10-7.

Canadiens Score Easy Win Over Fifth-Place Rangers

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens rode to an easy 9-4 victory over the fifth place New York Rangers in a National Hockey League game played before 12,000 fans here last night, and cut off Rangers' hopes of narrowing the gap separating them from the last play-off position.

The Canucks had run the count to 7-0 before the Rangers capitalized on a general Canadien ease-up. The second line of Buddy O'Connor, Fern Gauthier and Dutch Hiller led the Canadiens attack with four of the nine goals. The first string Blake-Lach-Richard combination bagged three goals, while Ray Getliffe collected the other two.

Little Ken McCauley played through the game in the Ranger nets with a game leg. Lionel Bouvrette of Quebec Aces was waiting on the Ranger bench as sub-goalie but was not needed. McCauley played a great stopping game despite the nine goals that beat him.

Fred Thurier, Walter Atanas, Fred Hunt and Ab Demarco were the Rangers marksmen, all their goals coming in the third period. Canadiens slapped in four goals in the first period, added two more in the second and had another in the third before the Rangers could score.

Maurice Richard collected his 40th and 41st goal of the season during the game, moving close to the modern NHL mark of 43 goals set by Cooney Welland of Boston in the 1939-40 season.

Weather Disrupts Winnipeg 'Spiel

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Mild weather which swept into Winnipeg in the wake of a 30-mile per hour wind last night disrupted play in the 57th annual Manitoba bonspiel by softening ice at most of the 14 rinks on which the 'spiel is being held.

But the favored Ken Watson and Gordon Hudson continued to sweep their way along the victory trail and brought their string of consecutive wins to six. Watson, aiming for his fourth grand aggregate title, downed Sangster of Winnipeg CPR 6-4 in an Eaton trophy match while Hudson eliminated R. T. Pritchard's Killarney, Man., rink in the same event.

New Methods Win 3-2

Street Railwaymen Register Fifth Independent Victory

Registering their fifth straight win in the City Independent Hockey League, the Street Railwaymen finished on the long end of a 7-2 score in the first half of the twin bill played at the Arena last night at the expense of Burns who have yet to get into the win column.

In the second fixture New Method edged out a 3-2 triumph over Swifts to take over the second slot of the loop's standing two points back of the Radial men who are perched out on top.

Making his first appearance of the season, Marsh Darling, former EAC Junior star, helped supply spark to Radial's victory by hitting the hemp twice. George McPherson, also with two, and Bobby Crossland, Bob Graham and Alex McSporran were the other snipers.

Feature of the game was the performance turned in by the veteran Jimmy Graham, noted for the many smart plays he showed with the old Superiors when that club was riding the crest in senior hockey in these parts a few years back. He figured in both the goals for Burns by scoring one himself in the second frame and assisting Poptash for the other in the last period.

LINEUPS

Burns—Warner, J. Warner, Potter, J. Graham, Wilchinski, Danilowich, Longor, Galien, Kobinski, Poptash.

Street Railway—Campbell, Sexsmith, Faulder, Crossland, B. Graham, McPherson, Medak, Walker, Darling, McSporran, Weeks, McGinnis.

Third period: 7—St. Railway, McSporran 8:22. 8—Burns, Poptash (J. Graham) 16:05. 9—St. Railway, McPherson (Graham) 19:35. Penalties—McPherson, Poptash.

SWIFTS' PUCKSTERS LOSE BUT TIE SCORE TWICE

With the score deadlocked twice, the second game was hard fought all the way through. All five goals were hung up in the first two periods, with the winners registering once in the initial frame and the other two in the sandwich session.

The losers scored one in each of the periods, and final twenty minutes went scoreless.

Howie Calvert, Tommy Brant and Pete Elock were the marksmen for the Laundrymen, while Colin Kilburn and Bob McKay tallied for the Meat Packers.

LINEUPS

Soccer Season To End April 28

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP-Cable)—The management committee of the football league south decided Thursday that barring another batch of postponed games the southern professional season will end April 28. The season was recently extended to that date because of postponements caused by snow and ice.

The south cup semi-finals will be played March 17 and 24 and, as previously announced, the cup final at Wembley will fall on April 7. The time between the cup final and the end of the season will be taken up with regular league matches.

Trudel Paces Army In Win Over RCAF

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Reni Trudel Thursday night scored four goals to pace Winnipeg Army Grenades to a 10-2 victory over RCAF Bombers in a Manitoba inter-service senior hockey league game here.

Joe Bockstael scored two goals and other army counters went to Jim McFadden, Tom Rockey, Les Hickey and Vern Smith. Roy McBride and Bill McGregor scored for the airmen.

The first wine growers in Australia were Greek pirates, prisoners of the English.

Canadians (B) Juveniles Cinch Top Spot in League

The leading Canadians (B) rang up their ninth victory in the last 10 games—the other was a tie—by trimming 49th Battalion 5-1 in the first game at 119 Street Rink Thursday night, and cinched first place in the City Juvenile Hockey League. Maple Leafs won 5-3 from South Side in the other clash.

The win for Maple Leafs, last season champions, moved them into the third place slot ahead of Canadians (A). This left three teams — Canadians (A), Maple Leafs and EAC—still in the race for the other two playoff berths. EAC meets Canadians (A) tonight and the top place team takes on Maple Leafs on Saturday in the last two games before the playoffs. If the Canadians (A) lose out tonight they will be knocked out.

Canadians No. 2 team's ace Wigston-Merkel-Sugden line again showed the way, the three figuring in four of the five markers. Matt Wigston tallied one, Roy Merkel netted one and assisted in another and Jack Sugden scored one and helped in two others. Other point-getters for the leaders were Don Taylor with a goal and an assist and Minoly and Walter Lupul, the former with a goal and Walter with an assist.

The lone Forty-Niners' tally came from the stick of Jim Hole, who spoiled goalie Bob Kidd's chances for a shutout with only a few minutes remaining to play.

Canadians took a 1-0 lead in the first period, increased it to 3-0 in the second and were ahead 5-0 when Hole broke the ice for the losers.

LINEUPS

Canadians (B): Kidd, Johnson, M. Lupul, Merkel, Sugden, Wigston, Young, Taylor, Purdie, W. Lupul, Bouwmeester, Shasko.

49th Battalion: Slater, Johns, Hole, Dodds, Weiderspiel, Stanton, Vanderberg, Gilfillan, Angus Sullivan, Mundy.

Referee—Cam Smith.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1 — Canadians (B), Wigston (Merkel).

Second Period: 2—Canadians (B), M. Lupul (Sugden); 3—Canadians (B), Taylor (W. Lupul).

Third Period: 4 — Canadians (B), Merkel (Sugden); 5—Canadians (B), Sugden (Taylor); 6—49th Battalion, Hole.

WALLIS SCORES THREE AS MAPLE LEAFS WIN

Led by the fast skating Charlie Wallis with three markers, Maple Leafs opened up in the last period with a three-goal splurge to overcome South Side and remain in the playoff race with a 5-3 win.

Ray Barry with one counter in addition to assisting in all three of Wallis' tallies and Roy Forrest were the other Maple Leaf goal-getters. Frank Crozier, Bob Kruper and Russell Stogryn netted for the South Side.

Wallis gave the Leafs the lead early in the first period, but Crozier tied it up and in the second frame Stogryn and Kruper made it 3-1 for South Side. Barry cut the lead by one before the second canto ended, and then Wallis netted two and Forrest one in the last for the Leafs to give them their win.

LINEUPS

Maple Leafs: Watson, Beauchamp, Keys, Hudson, Patterson, Wallis, Barry, Horricks, Noon, Forrest, Burke.

South Side: Samis, Anderson, Morie, Gleddie, McKenzie, Crozier, Whiting, Kruper, Stogryn, Johannson, Christenson, Martins, Silzer, Sauder.

Referee — Cam Smith.

First Period: 1—Maple Leafs, Wallis (Barry); 2—South Side, Crozier.

Second Period: 3 — South Side, Stogryn; 4 — South Side, Kruper (Silzer); 5 — Maple Leafs, Barry (Patterson).

Swim Gala Held At NWAC Pool

Northwest Air Command, Edmonton RCAF Station, held a swimming gala at their pool in the NWAC drill hall Thursday night. Feature of the meet was the tub race between Flt.-Lt. G. D. "Tony" Savage of the Edmonton Station and Flt.-Lt. S. F. Alexander, representative of NWAC.

A diving exhibition was put on by LAC. Carl Baily, a member of Canada's last olympic team and a number of WD's staged a drill, drapped in flags of the United Nations. There was also a relay race between the NWAC team and the Edmonton Station swimmers.

About 300 saw the gala. Guests of honor were Air Vice-Marshal T. A. Lawrence and Group Captain Dave Harding. Master of ceremonies was Wing Commander K. S. Blair.

Jimmy Foxx Plans To Make Comeback

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Jimmy Foxx, one of the greatest home run hitters of all time, plans a serious comeback effort this year—at the age of 37.

And it may be with the National League Phillies.

Within 10 pounds of his best playing weight and imbued with the same enthusiasm he had 20 years ago when he first reported to the athletics, Foxx stopped off at the Phillies' office Wednesday and asked general manager Herb Pennock whether he'd be interested in him as a good first or third baseman.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(BUP)—Babe Ruth and Jack Dempsey, most colorful sluggers of our times, hit the sports pages together Thursday as commander Jack, at 49, announced a tour of the South Pacific, and the Bambino at 51, discussed possibilities of returning to the Yankees as coach.

BLACK MAGIC.—That black object in Frances Vorne's hand that you are staring at so intently (or ARE you?) is a lump of bituminous coal. And you may be interested to know that coal is one of the basic ingredients of her swim suit, which is made of nylon.

These nebulous figures of sports' golden decade, who had so much in common—dynamite showmanship and a yen for lavish spending—now share the mutual desire that sports should continue for the duration.

This was emphasized by Ruth Wednesday at his Riverside Drive apartment, where the fat man in the blue smoking robe sat in an over-stuffed chair, puffing contentedly on a big, brown pipe. The all-time home run king has blown up to a blubbery 260 pounds. He has an undependable heart, intermittent throat trouble, and a game knee which is slowly recovering from an operation performed eight months ago. Despite his ailments, the big fellow still can bowl and play golf in moderation.

OWE IT TO SERVICEMEN

HE said, "we owe it to the servicemen and kids to keep sports alive for the duration. Servicemen tell me that one of the worst features of war is boredom. Attending sports on their furloughs and getting sports results overseas is a big help in preventing boredom. As for the kids, we must remember that they're the next generation of men—and we've got to give them something to shoot at."

The Bam perked up like an old war horse heeding the bugle, when asked about rumours that Col. Larry MacPhail, new president of the New York Yankees, might bring him back as coach to the club on which he had performed for 16 seasons with a booming bat that helped mightily to build the huge Bronx Stadium—a bat that whammed out the all-time record of 60 home runs in 1927. It was recalled that MacPhail, when head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, used Ruth as coach for part of the '38 season, in the Babe's post-Yankee days.

"This rumor is all news to me," Ruth declared. "But I hope it's true. I'd certainly like to get back into baseball. My knee will be well by April, the doctors say, and I will be able to coach all right."

RUMOR IS DOUBTED

COLONEL MacPHAIL was not available for comment. However, it is doubted that showman Larry would attempt to bring in Ruth as a coach under manager Joe McCarthy, with whom the Babe was at loggerheads when he left the Yanks in 1936.

Commander Dempsey, bronzed and firm and dynamic as ever—after more than two years in the coast guard—told boxing writers at his great northern hotel that he would soon head for the South Pacific on a five-months' tour that would take him to the Philippines, India, Persia, China, Russia and other countries. He and another coast guard officer will visit the service men at bases, giving talks and showing movies of famous bouts.

Dempsey asserted, "and when I come home I want to see sports running full blast; I want to see them running when our boys come back. They expect it and deserve it." He grinned and concluded, "maybe I'll bring home a Chinese heavyweight contender."

John McCormack Among Top Scorers

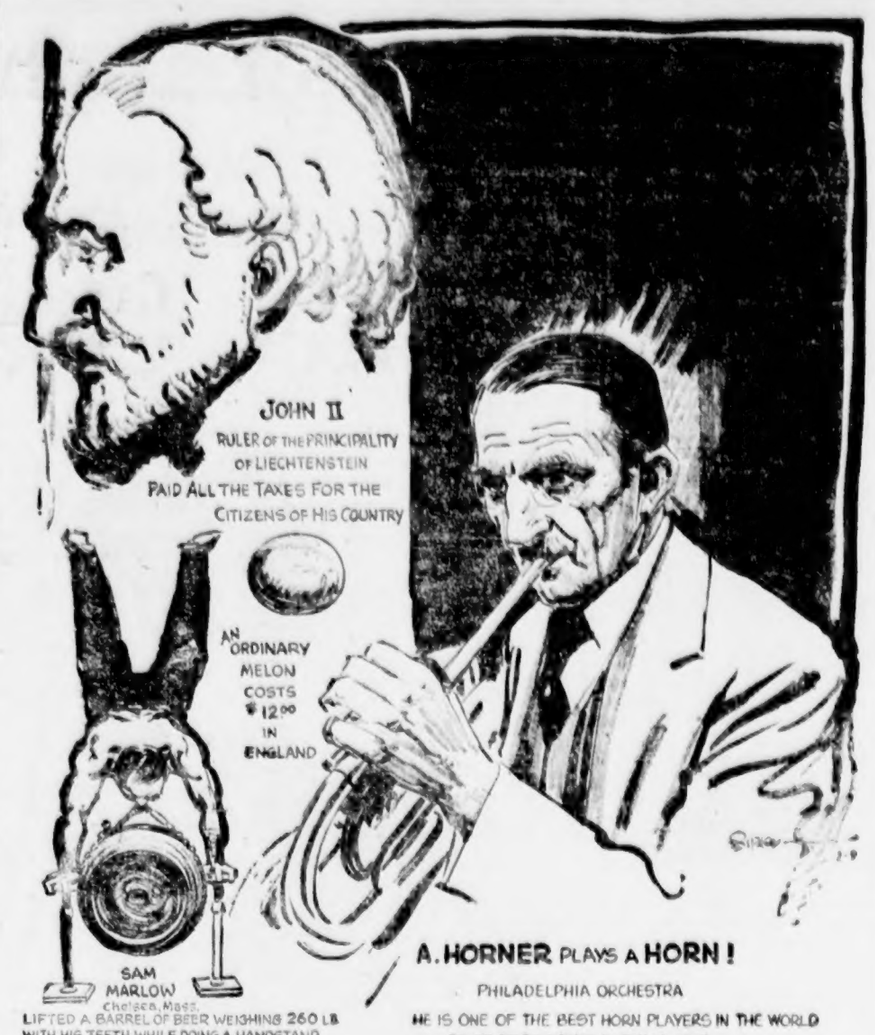

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Johnny Blute of St. Michael's Majors, with a total of 50 points, retained a five-point margin over team mate Leo Gravelle in the Junior OHA scoring race. Two other St. Michael's forwards, Edmonton's Johnny McCormack and Joe Sadler are tied for third place with 38 points, with St. Catharines defenceman Doug McMurdy of Winnipeg next in line with 34 credits.

Four-Man Committee Named To Find New Commissioner

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A four-man committee was named Thursday to hunt out the man for the $50,000-a-year job as baseball commissioner.

Will Harridge of the American League picked Alva Bradley of Cleveland and Donald M. Barnes of St. Louis as the representatives of his circuit while Ford C. Frick, president of the national loop and often mentioned as the possible successor of the late K. M. Landis, selected Phil Wrigley of Chicago and Sam Breadon of St. Louis.

Harridge has announced he is not interested in the position although the occupant will be given a seven-year contract at $50,000 annually.

Frick has been silent regarding the position. Breadon, president of St. Louis Cardinals, favored Frick before Saturday's meeting at which it was reported that the former baseball scribe had 11 of the required 12 votes.

Wrigley and Bradley, in comments prior to last week-end's meeting, indicated they preferred a man not connected with baseball for the job. James A. Farley, one-time Grassy Point, N.Y., first baseman and former postmaster general, and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, loom as the top-ranking candidates in this category.

Barnes also leans toward an outsider although he declared: "I have an open mind about the entire thing."

Buying by American interests was reported in the pit. Trade was generally active.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—(CP)—The Chinese sport program in Canada is well underway, and there are prospects the thing is going to be quite a success. The way the Chinese boys from Montreal and Ottawa turned on the class in that recent hockey game in Montreal, it shouldn't be too long before they take their place with the best in senior amateur competition, or perhaps the NHL will see them in a few years.

When they do, the process of internationalization of the sport in Canada will be just about complete, since represetatives of practically all nations have had a chance in the big time so far. It all augurs well for the future of hockey, and plans for its growth and expansion after the war.

WHITHER DRILLON?

Bill (Niagara Falls Evening Review) Gaynon pauses to wonder just what use Gordie Drillon would be to Montreal Canadiens if his discharge status is cleared up and he is made eligible to play hockey in Canadian centres. Canadiens have been doing all right by themselves and Drillon, out of condition as he is, will take some time to get back into form. Then too, we seem to remember some of the fans didn't take too kindly to the big boy before he joined the RCAF—taking the line he was loafing on the job and not giving his best.

PREVIEW

Hockey fans across Canada will get a chance to learn just what class former NHL stars now in the service are showing, when Foster Hewitt broadcasts from Halifax Feb. 20. Prospects are RCAF and Navy will ice two strong squads for the match, with their lineups well sprinkled with big names. Hewitt, from his view of the NHL, this season, will be able to give a good idea how the boys compare with the pro players. Many observers have said the service hockey is every bit as good as the NHL.

Connie Is Glad To See MacPhail With NY Yankees

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(AP)—82-year-old boss of the Philadelphia Athletics, Connie Mack, is regarded as a conservative member of the old school of baseball, but he believes the advent into the American league of the flamboyant Larry MacPhail is a stroke of good luck.

MacPhail, says Connie, is going to keep the rest of the league on its toes.

"I'm a great admirer of Col. MacPhail," the veteran tactician said during a fanning bee with a group of baseball men. "He did a great job at Cincinnati and at Brooklyn. I'm glad to see him in with the Yankees."

The fanning bee got around to the annual question of when Mack was going to retire.

"Why should I," he asked. "I'm looking forward to baseball after the war. We'll all have good players then and revived interest in the game. Then too, it has been a long time since we won a pennant in Philadelphia. Maybe it'll be our turn pretty soon, and I shouldn't want to miss that."

Montreal's Greco Has Examinations

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Johnny Greco, Montreal boxer suffering a stomach disorder after his defeat by Bobby Ruffin at New York last week, was in Baltimore Thursday for a round of eye, throat and stomach examinations.

Greco is being treated at a hotel, his physician, Dr. Ernest H. Gaither said.

All six teams in the Edmonton Athletic Club Pee Wee Hockey League see action again tonight at the Arena. In the first game at 7 o'clock, Sunland will meet Arrows while in the second Smithbilts take on Fairway and in the third Kraft will oppose Allards (Leckie's).

Montague May Be Offered NHL Job

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—The Ottawa Journal said Thursday an "unconfirmed report" making the rounds of capital sport circles had it that Lt.-Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of staff at Canadian military headquarters, London, "has been or will be approached very shortly with a view to taking over the presidency of the National Hockey League after the war."

Ontario Consols

KITCHENER, Ont., Feb. 9.—(CP)—P. G. Hall of Kitchener Thursday won the right to represent district eight in the Ontario Curling Association British Consol playdowns when he skipped his rink of Granite curlers through the district playoffs here, defeating F. Perry's Galt rink 15-7 in the final.

Girls' Basketball At NWAC Tonight

The City Girl's Basketball League doubleheader set for Thuraday was postponed and will be played tonight at the NWAC drill hall starting at 7:30 o'clock. Army and Navy Pats play the RCAF Gremlins in the first game while Y Bees meet Y Aces in the second. The second game will be an exhibition and the scheduled contest between University and Aces will be played next week.

District News In Brief

Soldier's Father Dies at Two Hills

TWO HILLS—N. J. Dron died at his farm home east of here. He moved to Canada from his native Bukovina, Ukraine, in 1912 and is survived by his father and two sons, John and Nick, the latter serving in the Romanian army.

With several donating for the second time, 21 local residents journeyed to the blood donor clinic at Vegreville this week.

Students at the high school will present their annual concert and dance Friday evening, with the proceeds going to the Students' Union. E. J. Woynarovitch is organizing the concert items.

The Hockey Club will sponsor a tournament on Wednesday with teams from Hairy Hill, St. Paul, Willingdon and Two Hills participating. A Valentine dance at the recreation hall will conclude the tournament.

Annual meeting here heard discussions on the possibility of building a new fire hall on the present location of the administration building, and the new market square and municipal hospital.

The following officers were elected by the Red Cross: president, P. M. Shavchook; vice-president, S. P. Mulka; secretary, W. Gegolick; treasurer, S. Peteski. Mrs. N. Poohkay is president of the women's work committee. In the last year, $1,400 was donated to the national treasury.

At a plebiscite held here to decide whether or not the ratepayers favored a municipal hospital, 82 per cent of the gathering signified their being in favor of the project. M. R. Dowhaniuk is president of the hospital committee.

Egg Graders Find Increase in Work

MILLET—Increase in work, necessitating the appointment of three assistants to the regular grader, was noted in the last month by the Millet branch of the Alberta Poultry Producers association. Marking and packing eggs for new export markets are said responsible for the sudden increase in work.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Radis entertained 75 friends and relatives on the occasion of their 25th anniversary. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, silver candles and flowers. Robert Holland of Leduc proposed the toast to which a reply was given by Mr. Radis. A chest of silver was presented by the guests to the long-married couple.

The following were elected at the annual meeting of St. John's Anglican Church: rector's warden, A. P. Mitchell; people's warden, E. R. Hoskins; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hoskins.

Annual Bonspiel Held at Trochu

TROCHU—This town's 22nd annual bonspiel got under way Monday with 21 rinks competing. There are 11 local rinks, skipped by R. Evans, H. Bierle, E. Fiala, R. McKinley, B. Dimmer, J. Frere, W. Taylor, M. McArthur, L. Frere, D. Balkwill and J. Findlay; two from Delburne, skipped by F. Clark and P. Morris; five from Elnora, skipped by R. Cameron, E. Kelly, H. McRae, G. Gibson, W. Burns, and T. Ellis, H. Lawrence and H. Scott from Three Hills.

In the Grand Challenge, two rinks, Scott of Three Hills and Findlay of Trochu have advanced to the eights. In the Brewery event, Burns of Elnaro, Clark of Delburne and H. Bierle have reached the eights.

The children at the Trochu Valley school in the last month have purchased $152.24 worth of war savings stamps. Gloria Burgoyne leads the school with a purchase of $22 worth.

Stage Dance

BREMNER: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Uren were hosts at a dance at their home. The Red Cross branch has installed a refreshment booth at the skating rink. Profits will be used by the organization. Teacher and students at North Clover Bar donated $14 to the Red Cross, part of the proceeds of a bazaar and whist drive.

Soldier Regards Channel Crossing As Highlight of Fighting Career

WAINWRIGHT: His narrow escapes from an enemy sea mine and a German buzz bomb are not regarded as particularly outstanding events—but his crossing of the English Channel four days after D-Day definitely "rate", so far as Pte. H. "Ace" Ward is concerned.

The soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ward Sr., of this town, is on leave from war-torn Europe, where everything that happened to him faded into the background when he was told he would be returning home. His wife and 16-month-old daughter Wendy Dianne were waiting for him on his arrival.

He enlisted in April, 1942, and has served in England, France and Belgium, all of which he describes as "very nice"—but he's one of these quiet chaps who won't elaborate very much on his experiences.

Born in Sheffield, Yorkshire, England, in March, 1917, Ace Ward received his education at Wainwright and was employed by Canadian National Railways prior to enlisting. He hopes to return to the same line of work after the war.

Just for the record, Pte. Ward is of the opinion that the war will end this summer—and maybe he's right. He's been there.

HOME AGAIN.—Flt. Lt. Dallas Schmidt, DFC and Bar, is again home at Millet. Following his return from overseas in December, he spent leave with his parents here and then was posted to an Eastern Canadian station. He has now been granted an additional 15 days leave.

Packing Firm May Build Feed Plant

LLOYDMINSTER.—Officials of Canada Packers Ltd., visited here with a view to locating suitable premises for a feed processing plant. The secretary of the Board of Trade has offered the co-operation of that organization in assisting the project.

The 32nd annual bonspiel of the Lloydminster curling club will get under way at the Arena Tuesday morning. To date 12 rinks have registered. Officials advise that an outstanding array of prizes have been obtained for each of the four events.

The Board of Trade will sponsor their seventh annual district hockey tournament in the Arena on March 3. A handsome shield is up for competition.

The Kinsmen Club last year remitted $2,000 to the "Milk for Britain" fund. The previous year it was $2,353 and the year before $2,000. The club expects to remit another $1,000 soon.

Pte. Harry Cambridge of Kitscoty has been killed in action. He joined the Canadian Army in May, 1941, and after 21 months in Newfoundland was posted to England. He is survived by his wife and son, in addition to his mother, five sisters and a brother. Word has been received that Sgt. Arthur Pglaughauft, recently reported missing, is now a prisoner of war in Austria. FO D. W. Grant, previously reported missing, is believed safe in Holland.

First War Vet Dies Suddenly

CORONATION—Daniel Nicoud, died suddenly after enjoying a game of pool with friends the previous evening. He was 68 years old. A member of the French artillery in the First Great War, he has operated a strawberry farm south of here for several years. A funeral service was held Friday morning from St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church.

Bacon Show Is Proposed For Alta. Farmers

LLOYDMINSTER — Something new will be added to Lloydminster's program of annual events if present plans for a bacon show, sponsored by the Exhibition Association in conjunction with the Alberta department of Agriculture materialize.

From present information, a carload of market hogs will be shipped from here about two weeks before the proposed date of the show, March 8. From this car, ten hogs will be selected and their carcasses returned in time for the exhibit.

It is hoped that two special speakers will be in attendance, J. A. Charnetski, provincial sheep and swine promoter, and A. O. Colbert of Dominion productions services.

North Hears Talk Breaking With B.C.

BY P. A. DAWES

POUCE COUPE—Talk of a break from British Columbia in favor of joining the Province of Alberta is heard on every side here as a result of the so-called sidetracking of the proposed road from Dawson Creek to Prince George by the British Columbia provincial government at Victoria.

Although the money had already been appropriated for the road, which would give the Peace River district its first direct outlet to the coast, word has now been received that this money is to be diverted from this project to a proposed road to Alaska along the west coast. The Alaska road is receiving the support of Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, with the Peace River block again "receiving the go-by."

The feeling here is that the interests of this area would be better cared for by Edmonton and the Alberta government.

Beautification Report Delayed By Committee

City council's bylaws committee Thursday again deferred action in connection with its report to city council on the beautification plan proposed for the approaches to the Macdonald hotel.

Mayor John W. Fry reported that conversations had taken place between the city commissioners and John Schofield, chief architect for the Canadian National Railways, at which this question had been fully discussed. He said that the commissioners were not in a position to make any final report at present.

TABLE RESOLUTION

The committee ordered tabled until this matter is being considered a resolution passed recently by the Edmonton Real Estate Association. In the communication before the committee from the association it was stated that, while the resolution was not passed unanimously, it received a "comfortable majority."

Text of the resolution follows:

Whereas the City of Edmonton own all of the property lying east of 100 street to the Blowey-Henry company property and lying south of Jasper avenue with the exception of five privately owned lots, and whereas the City of Edmonton is being strongly urged to acquire the property privately owned, with the view of establishing a park thereon;

Be it resolved that we the members of the Edmonton Real Estate Association in meeting held on the 7th day of February, 1945, agree as follows:

1. That a small park in this area of the city might be desirable and could be made a beauty spot, and

2. That if the project is decided on by the city council, that the whole of the property lying east of 100 street to the Blowey-Henry company's property should be utilized and not merely a portion thereof, and

3. That the cost of acquisition of all property in this area for park purposes or otherwise should be borne by the owners of all properties facing on the proposed park site, to the extent of 75 per cent of the total cost the other 25 per cent to be borne by the city at large. The property owner's share of acquisition to be levied against such property over a period of 20 years, and

4. That any improvements in this area should be made on a local improvement basis as the owners of all property facing on the proposed park site would undoubtedly benefit therefrom.

Clyde Bonspiel Again Success

CLYDE — Annual bonspiel was an outstanding success this year with 24 rinks participating. Eight rinks came from Westlock, two from Barrhead and one each from Morinville and Athabasca. Winners were: Grand Challenge, Renaud, Westlock; Sanes, Barrhead; Torrie, Westlock; Kinsmen, Clyde; Merchants, Smith, Westlock; Sharp Athabasca; Scabar, Clyde; Reid, Morinville; Visitors, Renaud, Torrie, McGlone and Panting, all of Westlock; Club, Scabar, East, Nelson and Aultman.

Stampede Group Names Officers

BRUCE—At the annual meeting of the Sports and Stampede Association, the following officers were elected: president, Henry Ovens; vice-president, Bill Dorin; secretary-treasurer, Jack Parfett; board of directors, J. Stambaugh, Ernie Dorin and Emil Dorin.

At the Red Cross meeting, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. J. McArthur; vice-president, Mrs. J. P. Hughes; secretary-treasurer, J. Savage; campaign manager, J. W. Stambaugh; work committee, V. Bray, Mr. Stambaugh, J. Parfett, Mrs. P. Knudsen, Mrs. Parfett, Mrs. E. Emes and Mrs. F. French. The branch turned over $800 to Red Cross headquarters in the last year.

League President At Jasper Local

JASPER: Provincial president of the Canadian Daughters League, Mrs. Muldown visited Jasper to address a meeting in the Masonic Hall. After the business sessions, friends and members were entertained at cards when prizes were won by Mrs. A. McLachlan, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. A. McFadyen and Mrs. Brown. Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Walker, Mrs. Harrison and Miss Mathieson.

Flt. Lt. P. Wilby, RCAF, has returned to duty after spending leave here. PO. David Mann, RCAF, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Mann.

Rites For Alberta Airman at Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 9.—(CP)—funeral services for Sqdn. Ldr. Cyril Hudson Carscadden, RCAF, who was killed in a Liberator bomber crash Sunday while on a routine flight from Abbotsford, will be held here Friday. Sqdn. Ldr. Carscadden came to Vancouver for the first time just two months ago. He was born and educated at Red Deer, Alta., and joined the air force four years ago.

Wabamun Defeated

STONY PLAIN — After losing their first five hockey games, the seniors downed Wabamun 7-2 Tuesday night. Local goalgetters were Brown, Rosenau, Ulmerus, Miller and Gannon. Savord scored both Wabamun goals. Sgt. H. Enders has been visiting his parents after two years' active service.

McCoy Health Service

Straightening crooked teeth is the work of the orthodontist. "Ortho" comes from the Greek and means straight. By making use of the science of orthodontia, the specialist can straighten irregular teeth, push over-lapping, crowded teeth back into line, bring to the front those teeth which recede, and make protruding teeth which stick out, go back where they belong.

The good effects of such treatment can hardly be over-estimated. Not only do the teeth themselves benefit by it but the digestion of the patient improves, and there is a corresponding psychological improvement. The patient with ugly teeth usually prefers to stay in the background where his defect will not be noticed and thus may not make the effort to win normal happiness. He feels that his appearance is marred by that irregularity and the result is self-effacement, shyness, and a feeling of inferiority. Many a woman who has found unattractive teeth a definite handicap is helped to beauty and an attractive smile simply by having the teeth straightened.

When the teeth are so irregularly placed that they do not meet correctly in the bite and the grinding surfaces of the upper teeth do not fit properly into those of the lower teeth, normal chewing is impossible. The patient chews his food very little and because of this may develop indigestion. The normal appearance of the cheeks, lips and chin is also interfered with when the teeth are out of line. When the teeth are so badly placed that the patient has a hard time in keeping the lips together, he will easily form a habit of mouth-breathing. Through not receiving enough oxygen due to his faulty breathing habits, he may become listless and dull. When the teeth are out of position they are also likely to decay far more rapidly than they would otherwise, and at the same time, there is a greater danger of such gum disorders as pyorrhea and Trench Mouth.

All in all, there are many reasons why straightening of crooked teeth brings such good results. Such straightening is possible only because of an unusual feature possessed by the tooth. This feature is a unique combination of hardness with the ability to be molded. The tooth which appears to be so firmly embedded in its first position, is capable of being moved to another position by slow, gentle pressure. The science of adjusting that pressure in such a way as to put the tooth where it ought to be, is the science of orthodontia. The change in position must be done very gradually and on an average, about three years time is required.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

To Ask City For Reduction In Water Rate

Going on record as being in favor of Edmonton City Council reducing present water rates from $1.12 to a $1 minimum, the Federation of Community Leagues meeting in the Civic Block Thursday night passed a resolution urging that such a reduction be made as soon as possible.

The motion, introduced by Ben Hager and Lloyd Jones was passed after considerable discussion revolving around reports that the $1.12 rate was supposed to have lasted only until the water softening plant, installed some time ago, could be operated on a paying basis.

With that mark reached, the federation felt the extra cost could be taken off water bills. It was stated that a surplus is now being made on operation of the plant

HOTEL BEAUTIFICATION PLAN

Another topic discussed was the proposed park on property adjoining the Macdonald hotel. President of the Taxpayers' Association of Edmonton, Dr. G. J. Hope read a letter which his organization had sent to city council, which itself reviewed the entire proposal.

Dr. Hope told of the property being sold a few years ago at a low price ,and declared that now, when the city wished to re-purchase the property, the price had been raised tremendously.

On a motion by W. H. Hobbins, secretary of the Westmount Community League, the federation went on record as opposing the city's purchase of the property "at any price."

Mrs. W. T. Rice, secretary of the federation, was appointed the league's representative as associate director on the board of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, She held the same office several years ago.

Plans for the annual banquet, open to members of all community leagues, advanced when a committee was appointed to supervise arrangements. On the committee are Lloyd Jones, W. Pritchard, Mrs. N. Myres and Mrs. Rice. The banquet has not been held for the last two years due to difficulty in obtaining caterers.

A notice of motion was presented calling for study by the league of the city's present transportation facilities. The matter will be discussed at the next meeting.

Federation president Percy Cowley was chairman.

KILLED IN ACTION.—Pte H. R. Magnan, son of Mr and Mrs. Henry Magnan of Beaumont, who has been killed in action while serving with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment in Italy. He was born at Lac la Biche, April 22, 1922. After receiving his schooling at Beaumont, he enlisted in December 1943 and was posted to Calgary. He went overseas in June 1944 and was a reinforcement for The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. He was wounded twice before being killed. He is survived by his parents, six brothers, Paul of 9910 79 avenue, and Maurice, Anthony, Ernest, Richard and Jeff, and three sisters, Marie Anne, Rose and Jean d'Arc all at home.

Provincial Debt Now $146,334,016

Alberta's public debt as at Dec. 31, 1944, was $146,334,016, a decrease of $988,309 from the public debt of $147,322,326 at Dec. 31, 1943, according to a financial statement released Friday by the provincial government.

Net funded debt of the province as at Dec. 31, 1944, was $139,129,020, while unfunded debt was $7,204,995.

The funded debt decreased by $76,949 in the period, due to a cancellation of Alberta registered stock of $62,449, and part redemption of a Dominion treasury bill for $14,500

The unfunded debt is made up as follows: Savings certificates, $3,204,481; superannuation fund, $3,865,105, and $137,109 miscellaneous.

The unfunded debt decreased by $167,458 during the 12-month period ended Dec. 31, 1944. The decreases resulted through payment of $416,687 on savings certificates; $261,655 out of the superannuation fund, and $12,425 on miscellaneous accounts.

To Attend Funeral

James Jackson, Irma, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, will leave Edmonton Friday night for Calgary, where he will attend funeral services Saturday for Robert Gardiner, late honorary president of the United Farmers of Alberta.

Mr Jackson will return to Edmonton over the week-end, and plans to leave for his farm at Irma some time next week.

To Vets' Delegation

Premier Gives Assurance Of Help To Ease Housing

The Alberta government will do everything within its power to relieve Edmonton's serious housing situation if a delegation of civic and veterans officials leaving for Ottawa Friday meet with failure in efforts to secure federal assistance.

Premier Ernest Manning gave this assurance to a delegation of veterans who discussed housing and other matters at the premier's office Friday morning.

The premier also promised early and full consideration of a request from the delegation to have British war brides wives of former Alberta residents now in the services brought under the benefits of free maternity treatment legislation.

FREE TREATMENT

Under existing regulations free pre-maternal treatment is available to women who have been residents of the province for one year.

It was proposed to Premier Manning that wives of all men in the service who were bona fide residents of the province prior to entering the services should be eligible for these benefits.

Members of the delegation who visited the premier were: First vice-president, J. C. MacDonald and second vice-president Percy W. Gwynne of Edmonton Branch No. 24 of the Canadian Legion BESL; Mrs. R. E. Brown of the Edmonton Navy Mothers' Club and W. J. Williams, MLA, secretary-manager of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Gwynne, who is chairman of the Edmonton Ex Servicemen's Rehabilitation Committee, and Mr Williams, are proceeding to Ottawa Friday to interview Dominion government officials on the Edmonton housing situation

REVIEWS SITUATION

The delegation reviewed the situation in Edmonton following the recent announcement of National Housing officials here that the Dominion government had suspended the plan to reconvert military hutments at Dawson Creek to use as temporary suites for civilian homeless in Edmonton.

Delegates said following the meeting that a most courteous and sympathetic attitude was exhibited by Premier Manning.

Mayor John W. Fry and Ald. Sidney S. Bowcott will leave Friday evening for Ottawa to make representations to Dominion government authorities seeking immediate action to give relief to Edmonton's serious housing situation.

SUBSTITUTION

Ald Bowcott is taking the place of Ald. Sidney Parsons on the city's delegation, the latter having been refused "leave of absence without pay" by Fred J. White, Winnipeg, regional director of National Selective Service, to travel to Ottawa and present the city's case. Ald. Parsons is employed at the Edmonton office of National Selective Service.

N. E. Tanner, representing the Edmonton Ex-Servicemen's Rehabilitation Committee is also travelling to Ottawa to make representations on behalf of ex-service men. W. J. Williams, MLA, and Percy J. Gwynne, representing the Canadian Legion are also going to Ottawa in support of representations being made to relieve the housing shortage in Edmonton.

Decision to make representations to Ottawa for immediate action to relieve the housing shortage was forecast the announcement last week that plans to build 300 accommodation units from lumber and pre fabricated huts salvaged from the Dawson Creek United States camp and other projects had been abandoned.

Ask Police Patrol In North Edmonton

Monthly general meeting of the North Edmonton community league at St. Michael's hall Wednesday night voted to ask for police patrol in the district between 2 p.m and 10 p.m. The support of the Federation of Community Leagues was urged in obtaining a bus service to the district.

Other items discussed included the league's moccasin dance at the community skating rink Friday at 9 p.m. A membership drive will be intensified in an effort to get 100 per cent of the citizens in the district to support the league.

It was also proposed that the beautification program on property adjoining the Macdonald hotel be financed by the Canadian National Railways.

TO OPEN HOSPITAL.—Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, who will officiate at opening of the new hospital at Eckville next Thursday. The new institution is valued at more than $50,000. Other provincial health officials will be present at the opening ceremony.

State Medicine Is Opposed Here

The eighth meeting of the current session of the Edmonton Discussion Club was held Feb 8 in the Corona hotel, Edward Brice presiding.

A paper was given by Dr W H Chinneck on "State Medicine."

The proposed bill was dealt with clause by clause, with references made to New Zealand, where state medicine is a statute.

The disadvantages were felt to be more than the advantages and it was finally resolved, "we oppose state medicine," this being carried unanimously.

The next meeting will be held on Feb 22 and will be on the subject, "How shall we vote at the next Dominion election?"

KEP Credit Union Holds Annual Meet

The annual general meeting of the King Edward Park Savings and Credit Union was held in the King Edward Park Community Hall on January 31.

The KEP Credit Union though organized less than two years ago had a successful year, paying a 3 per cent dividend and returning to the borrowers 20 per cent of the interest paid on their loans. Due to ill health James Hall resigned as president. He had given much time and work to the union.

Take Fare Box From Calder Car

City police were investigating the theft of a fare-box from a Calder line street car late Thursday afternoon. Three men were said to have been involved in the theft.

The box was said to have been one of which a conductor [illegible] had charge, and was not missed until the trio left the car, shortly after entering it. An old model auto was said to have been waiting for the men.

The men were picked up near a Calder hotel, according to police, about 5.45 p.m. that day, and after riding as far as 127 street and 124 avenue, they stepped off, getting into the auto.

A passenger reported that one of the men tucked the fare box under his coat as he left the tram.

City Man Is Dead After Long Illness

Peter Lacygrn Reid, 9701 154 street died in a city hospital Thursday after a lengthy illness. He was 36 years old.

He is survived by his wife and one son, David William of Edmonton, his father, Mrs. D. W. Taylor, two sister, Mrs. E. Lott and Mrs. Irwin Lycan all of Edmonton.

A funeral service will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from Andrews McLaughlin [illegible] chapel.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Girl Of 14 Is Too Young for Marriage

Bridegroom of 30 Should be Sensible Enough to Tell Bride's Parents; Secret Marriage Proves Dangerous

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two school girls who are secretly married and we are afraid to tell our parents. I am 14 and my friend is 15. Our parents are prominent people. I am married to a man 30 years old. She is married to a boy of 18. We are happy but scared. Please tell us what to do.

WORRIED MINDS

Answer: Well, children, you should sign your letter FEEBLE MINDS instead of WORRIED MINDS, for any girl who gets married at 14 certainly hasn't all that is coming to her in the way of good, hard, horse sense. And I should say that you are a poor picker of husbands, for no man of 30, who had the instincts of a gentleman, would take advantage of the youth and inexperience of a girl-child hardly out of the kindergarten to marry her secretly. He would go to her parents and ask their consent and marry her openly and decently, or wait until she grew up.

However, having done the best you could to wreck your lives before they have fairly begun, the only thing you can do now is to try to salvage as much of your happiness as you can, and the only way you can do this is by going at once to your parents. Tell them of your folly and get them to help you make the best of the bad bargain you have made. It will be a sad blow to them, for no doubt they are proud of you and have looked forward to your having a gay and happy girlhood, and eventually marrying some nice lad, but you have spoiled all of that dream.

They can, however, save your reputations by announcing your marriages and by doing what they can to get your husbands started in some way of supporting you.

REFUSES KISS

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a teenage girl and would like to know some gracious way to say NO to a boy when he tries to kiss me. I don't want to hurt his feelings, but I don't want to be kissed by every kid who comes along. A lot of other young girls would also like to know how to handle this situation. CAROLINE.

Answer: You are in no danger of hurting a boy's feelings when you refuse to kiss him. You may wound his vanity if he thinks he is a lady-killer and that no girl can resist him, but his heart is not involved. As a matter of fact, a lot of boys are positively grateful to girls who say NO when asked for a kiss. They haven't the kissing-bug complex and only kiss because they think girls expect it of them or because all the other boys are kissing.

Of course, no formula can be given for saying NO diplomatically to a kisser. Every situation calls for its own special technique in its handling. But the best advice that can be given on the subject is to take kissing humorously. Make a joke of it. Laugh it off. Tell your boy friend that you are allergic to kissing; or that your lips are not a free lunch counter for every Tom, Dick and Harry; or that you don't think there is a bit of harm in kissing, it is only that it is so common; or that your lipstick comes off; or that you are saving your kisses for the man you marry.

Of course, if a boy won't date you if you don't kiss, that's that. But you are lucky to be rid of him.

NOT TRUE

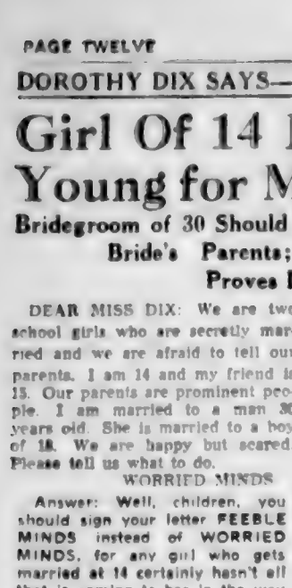

DEAR MISS DIX: There is an old saying: "Every pot has a cover" as far as marriage is concerned. Is there any truth in this statement? Is there a mate for every man and woman? R. T.

Answer: Certainly not. Like many old adages this is untrue and if you take it metaphorically or literally. And it will be still more untrue after the war when there will be millions of women who cannot find mates because there is to be a scarcity of the husband supply.

It is a pretty and romantic theory that somewhere in the world there is a predestined mate for every man and woman but even if this were true they would have no way of finding each other. Maybe that is the reason so many marriages go haywire.

Do you know that there is an easy test to determine the health of your hair? Stretch a few hairs. If healthy, they will stretch to about one-fifth of their length without breaking. If your hair doesn't stretch, but breaks, then you had better stretch your time to include scalp massage and brushing.

Debunker

Early scientists believed that the sun was burning its own substance and thus would eventually burn out; but it is now held by leading scientists that nothing is being burned on the sun, and that there is no danger of the sun's ever exhausting itself by burning up. The heat of the sun is now believed to be caused by terrific pressures inside and outside the sun causing the matter to break up into atoms, and finally to ionize into electron gas and nuclear gas. The pressure thus produced would create such enormous heat that light would result and nothing would burn up, for all the elements are already reduced to their final products.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

THE GLAMOUR OF SPECIALISM

Our five-year-old son has rheumatic heart disease with dilatation and some other things, according to our doctor. We are prompted to write you after reading that you advocated mild exercise as against our present plan of absolute rest in bed all of the time. The doctor first heard a murmur two months ago. Then a pediatrician examined the boy a month later and said he suspected rheumatic fever. He recommended extra rest but no other change. Examination by heart specialist showed rheumatic heart disease etc. Treatment, rest in bed all the time, never on feet, 8 to 10 aspirin tablets per day. Now the youngster is most energetic and sometimes it is almost impossible to keep him quiet, and when he does become active he is soon puffing and breathing as hard as if he had gone ten rounds. We would like to obtain another opinion and diagnosis, perhaps from a doctor who might prescribe different treatment. Can you recommend a good heart specialist in . (W.C.W.)

In the first place, the moderate activity I advocated, instead of prolonged rest applied to chronic heart disease in adults. In this instance it seems clear that notwithstanding the child's natural desire and inclination to play actively the effort is detrimental since it produces such hard breathing.

Heart specialist? I know of none I would recommend.

This child's parents evidently believe a "specialist" is a superior kind or type of physician. Their own doctor diagnosed the heart trouble, but after all, it is the fashion to see a specialist or a series of them. So the pediatrician or child specialist cheerfully confirmed the family doctor's diagnosis—which means merely that two doctors agreed.

But still the parents yearned for more glamour, and they found it in the form of the heart doctor. What amazes me is that the heart specialist or even a good family physician would feed a child aspirin in the amount the correspondent mentions.

Large doses of aspirin produce weakness of the heart, depression of the respiratory and vasoconstrictor centers, albumin and casts in the urine and collapse. Many persons have an idiosyncrasy for aspirin and even an ordinary dose in such persons may cause feelings of weakness, collapse, angioneurotic edema, hemorrhages of face and throat, skin rashes, hives, and rarely death. Aside from relieving ache or pain—for which aspirin is one of the least dangerous agents we have — there is no satisfactory evidence that aspirin has any curative or preventive value in rheumatic heart disease or rheumatic fever, acute infectious arthritis, acute inflammatory rheumatism). In view of the depression of the respiratory center produced by aspirin perhaps the labored breathing of this child is attributable to the treatment as much as to the heart disease.

Montreal Blaze

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Firemen worked for close to five hours last night before extinguishing a fire which broke out in a three-storey paint factory on Dormier avenue in the east end of the city. Cause of the blaze was not immediately known, and no estimate of damage was available. The blaze broke out at the Carter White Lead Company plant.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

This is the time of year when the baby's night diapers may smell terrifically of ammonia. That early morning diaper may be well-nigh suffocating and burn the baby's buttocks bright-red.

This condition may arise because of the way in which the diapers are laundered. Wet diapers should not be used more than once. Soiled diapers should be freed of all soil and then both wet and soiled ones put to soak in clear water with a few tablespoons of vinegar added.

Once a day, or every other day, the diapers should be washed well in soapy water. Then put them on to boil and boil for at least five to ten minutes. Rinse in at least three rinse waters. If the ammonia odor has been of lengthy duration, then in the last rinse water add some boric acid solution about one tablespoon of boric acid crystals to one gallon of water. The crystals should be dissolved first in boiling water and then added to the cool rinse water.

This whole process may not need to be gone through each time the diapers are washed, once the diapers are rid of the small organism which, when united with urine, results in ammonia. But it is helpful in preventing the condition again to boil the diapers at least once weekly, to rinse them in boric acid water occasionally and dry them in the air and sun on every possible opportunity.

When the diet is out of balance the same result may be noticeable, even though the diapers are carefully washed.

This calls for a review of the whole diet. Such a condition is possible when the baby's formula is made of milk containing too large a proportion of cream—such as is present in cow's milk of high cream percentage.

A lack of sufficient fruits and vegetables to give balance to a diet that may be too highly acid-ash after digestion, may be causing the condition. It isn't the acid tasting foods which are necessarily acid-ash after digestion, it is the cereals, breads, eggs, meat, etc., which should be balanced with the alkaline-ash citrus fruits and vegetables.

To be suspicious of a diet will be helpful if the mother checks by some standard diet sheet and makes sure her baby is getting some of all the various kinds of foods needed for balanced and adequate nutrition.

Our leaflet, "Diaper Care and Ammoniacal Urine," offers other suggestions for this condition. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

War Kitchen

When the meat supply is short use more cereals. Cereal helps to supply protein, niacin, thiamin, riboflavin, all of which are important contributions of meat. And it has some of the phosphorus, iron and copper for which meat is highly rated. Cereal protein is incomplete in itself but is as complete as that of meat when combined with protein such as milk, eggs, cheese or fish.

Cheese and Farina Croquettes
(Serves 4)

Three cups cooked hot farina, ¼ pound American cheese, diced, 1½ teaspoons salt, few grains pepper, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon grated onion, few drops tabasco, 1 cup crushed wheat flakes, fat or salad oil, sauteed onion slices, Creole sauce.

Combine farina and cheese; mix well so that cheese melts. Add salt and pepper. Beat egg; add with parsley, onion and tabasco. Mix well. Shape into croquettes; roll in wheat flakes. Chill. Saute slowly in fat or meat drippings turning to brown on all sides. Serve on sauteed onion slices with Creole sauce (made with tomatoes, onion and green pepper).

Creole Oatmeal Casserole
(Serves 4-6)

Two cups of cooked left-over oatmeal, ½ teaspoon grated onion, ¼ teaspoon chili powder, 1½ tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes, salt and pepper, ½ cup cubed American cheese.

Combine oatmeal, grated onion and chili powder; spread thinly on heat-proof platter or shallow baking dish. Heat fat, add onion and green pepper. Saute until onion is golden brown. Add tomatoes, simmer until tomato sauce is thickened. Season with salt and pepper. Pour tomato sauce on oatmeal, top with cheese. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 15 minutes or until cheese is melted and lightly browned.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Creole oatmeal casserole, French-type bread, baked pears, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried scrappie and apple rings, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, wholewheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, fresh fruit gelatine, top milk, coffee, milk.

Dominion's War Effort Outlined At Labor Meet

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Pat Conroy, delegate of the Canadian Congress of Labor, laid before world trade union leaders yesterday a picture of Canada's "tremendous" war effort and urged an end to the "jockeying for position" among the various national groups represented at their world conference.

"World trade union unity," he said, "can only be achieved by application of reason and common sense and exhibitions of power politics and pressure groups in this conference will not be accepted as a basis on which Canadian delegates make their decisions.

MUST BE REDUCED

"Jockeying will have to be reduced to a minimum and intelligence and reason raised to the maximum if Canada is to accept the decisions of the conference itself."

The standing orders committee recommended that invitations be sent to the movements in Finland, Bulgaria, Romania and Italy and that the credentials committee decide whether they come as delegates or observers.

Mr. Conroy said he wanted to present a summary of what one small country was doing.

"Canada ranks fourth in world production," he said, "and on a per capita basis the Canadian contribution is at least on a par with any other nation. This is a mighty achievement for a nation of 11,000,000 and curiously enough Canadians are not content with their accomplishments and are quite self-critical—a phenomenon peculiar to ourselves."

NEGATIVE VICTORY

"The defeat of Hitler in itself will be but a negative victory," he said. "Positive victory can only be achieved if the fighting men, when they return home, find a state of affairs justifying their sacrifice."

The Canadian delegation was joined yesterday by four more members: J. A. Sullivan of Ottawa, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress; J. A. Whitebone of Saint John, N.B., vice-president of the Congress; Clarence Jackson of Toronto, Canadian president of the United Electrical Workers (CIO); Nigel Morgan of Vancouver, International Board member of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO).

Planes Back Drive

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP) — Continent-based Canadian Typhoons and Spitfires gave powerful support to the 1st Canadian Army offensive southeast of Nijmegen yesterday. They flew more than 300 sorties between dawn and dusk to cover the troops, strike German rail and road systems and raid German border towns.

Report Absentee Troops Are Dealt With in Quebec

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—(CP)—The Montreal Star said yesterday that authorities of Military District No. 4 here now are dealing with about 200 men from different units who overstayed their embarkation leave at Christmas." The newspaper added that there still remains "the problem of rounding up the balance of 1,100 who now are classed as deserters. Of those classed as deserters, the newspaper said that "the belief is widely held in military circles that the overwhelming proportion" of those involved "are in hiding in the Laurentians" north of the city.

Surveying Institute Officers Are Named

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. (Tommy) Burns, former commander of the 1st Canadian Corps in Italy and last reported general officer commanding Canadian lines of communication in northwest Europe, yesterday was elected an honorary member of the Canadian Institute of Surveying at the closing session of its 38th annual meeting. He is a former president of the institute. Other officers elected were: President, R. D. Davidson, Ottawa; provincial representatives, J. H. Holloway, Edmonton; F. C. Swannell, Victoria; D. E. Denmark, Winnipeg; William Stewart, Regina.

Beveridge Liberal Vice-President

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(Reuters)—Sir William Beveridge, who has campaigned for social security and full employment, was elected vice-president of Britain's Liberal party Wednesday. Other vice-presidents elected were Lady Megan Lloyd George, member of parliament, the daughter of Britain's famous last war premier, Mrs. Corbett Ashby, noted woman Liberal campaigner, and Isaac Foot.

Asks Readjustment Of Tax Structure

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Premier Stuart S. Carson of Manitoba, in an address to the 59th annual convention of the Engineering Institute of Canada here last night, appealed to the organization to "lend the great weight of your influence" towards readjustment of Dominion - provincial taxation rights.

The Premier said that the Canadian tax structure will have a heavy load to carry after the war and added that the pre-war tax structure had collapsed under a lesser load. It had been necessary at the start of the war for the Dominion to enter an agreement with the provinces under which they surrendered to the Dominion exclusive rights of taxing incomes of individuals and corporations.

"I suggest that if we do not retain in effect the substance of this agreement we have no more hope of achieving full employment in the post-war than we have of having a successful war effort without such an agreement."

Fear U.S. Floods

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Thawing weather moving across the northern United States from the west towards the east increased the possibility of eastern floods last night. Pennsylvania and federal authorities had virtually that entire state alerted against the menace of the combination of ice jams and prospect of rain, a situation which preceded the disastrous 1936 floods.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Capt. Jack Berry who is stationed with the Engineers in Alaska, stopped off on his way home to Pittsburg recently.

Jack took full advantage of West's opening to make the maximum out of today's hand. He won the opening lead with the king of clubs. Now he had to decide whether he was going to try to ruff the diamonds out but he could see that he might lose a spade, a club and two hearts if he elected that line of play, so instead he cashed the king of hearts and led a small heart over to his ace. The ten of clubs was then played and when West refused to cover the finesse was taken.

Now the deuce of clubs picked up the jack and established the clubs as the five of clubs. Captain Berry discarded the three of spades. West trumped with the jack of hearts and then led the king of spades, which Berry won. The three of diamonds was discarded on a good club and then a spade was trumped. A diamond was ruffed in the dummy and the balance of the tricks were taken with the ace of trumps.

Belle Finnestad Becomes Bride

VANCOUVER, Feb. 9—At 3069 West Sixth avenue, Vancouver, on Jan. 27 at 7:30 p.m., the marriage took place of Miss Borghild (Belle) Finnestad, of Edmonton, daughter of Martin Finnestad, of Stavanger, Norway, and Roland Pahal, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. Pahal, of Leduc. The Rev. Arnold Anderson performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a two-piece fuschia colored crepe frock, a hat of black sequins trimmed with veiling, and a corsage of gardenias. Her only ornament was her grandmother's gold locket.

ATTENDS BRIDE

Matron of honor was Mrs. N. Walters, who wore a two-piece brown crepe dress and a brown picture hat. Her corsage was of salmon pink baby chrysanthemums and formosa.

N. Walters was best man.

Miss Dreda Smith of Seattle, Wash., sang "Because".

RECEPTION HELD

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walters, who are cousins of the bride. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table, which was decorated with pink and white streamers, bells and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. G. Wade of Edmonton, and Mrs. E. Hammond, of Red Deer, assisted at the reception.

The couple are spending a honeymoon at the west coast and upon their return will make their home in Leduc.

Servicewomen Have Bright New Centre

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Service women in Canada's capital now have all the comforts of home when they are on leave here—at the new Leave Centre, formerly the home of the late A. J. Freiman.

The large house on Somerset street has been redecorated and now is a cheerful hostel for holidaying service women or those convalescing from illness. Operated by the war services department, working through the YWCA, the centre provides sleeping accommodation for 78 girls.

The large mahogany panelled lounge has been furnished with cream leather chairs, coffee tables and chintz-covered chesterfields. Other small sitting rooms have been arranged in the alcoves on the landings of the second and third floors of the home.

Various color schemes have been carried out in the dormitories with print, gingham and chintz draperies harmonizing with pastel blue or green walls.

Three supervisors, Mrs. Richard Thomson, Miss Enid Thomson and Mrs. M. J. Tedford, live at the residence and are in charge of the centre which is similar to others in Winnipeg, Vancouver and Halifax.

TO PRESIDE AT BRIDGE PARTY—Mrs. Leonard Wize, president of the United Services YMCA club, who will preside at a bridge and whist party to be held by the senior hostesses in the gymnasium of the "Y" Monday evening. Metropolitan Aid Holds Tea

The February meeting of the Metropolitan United church women's auxiliary took the form of a tea in the Guild room at the church. Mrs. R. M. Thompson led the devotional.

Mrs. C. J. Kidd reporting for the Red Cross committee, described the procedure in taking blood donations at the clinic and showed bottles containing liquid serum and the dehydrated product as prepared for shipment overseas. She also demonstrated the preparation of bottles for use by the Mobile Blood Clinic. One group of four volunteer workers from the women's auxiliary washed, assembled and packed 18 dozen bottles in one three-hour period last week. Auxiliary volunteers have given 135 hours work at the blood clinic in January.

It was announced that the auxiliary will cater for the Women's Missionary Society presbyterial meeting in Metropolitan church on Feb. 15.

After the business meeting Mrs. Thompson on behalf of the auxiliary made presentations to Mrs. F. T. Cook, Mrs. A. L. Marks and Mrs. F. Farley, who have given devoted service to the organization.

Approximately 70 women were entertained at tea.

Five-Member Board To Redraw Borders

LONDON, Feb. 9. — (CP)—Prospects of a "feminist" controversy are seen in the government's announcement that a five-member board will redraw the map of England and Wales after studying the various divisions of local government.

The White Paper on municipal reform doesn't specifically say the five members are to be men but the official attitude seems to be: "Well, after all, these problems have been studied much more by men than by women."

The possibility of a woman being among the "big five" doesn't seem to have been considered.

But the plan will be discussed in parliament next month and women members are expected to raise the matter. It will be argued presumably, that women nowadays are playing a much greater part in local government — women are mayors of a number of British towns—and that women live in local surroundings much more than men.

Another contention will be that the redrawing of municipal boundaries may ultimately influence things which concern every woman, such as bus and tram services, electricity and water supplies, housing schools, hospitals and other public services.

Women Serve On Oil Tanker

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 9 (CP)—Girls in the galley, posies in the portholes and women on the wireless don't make the crewmen of one Norwegian oil tanker quail—they like 'em.

In fact all the men, including their skipper Capt. Rolf Larsen, a Norwegian merchant marine for 40 years, takes for granted and actually praise—their petticoat colleagues.

When their vessel put out to sea recently from Baltimore, blonde, blue-eyed Elsa Greaker, also Norwegian, began her second voyage as the ship's stewardess and Mrs. Mary Milne, widow of a Canadian soldier, signed up a wireless operator.

Exotic ports around the world are familiar names to Elsa, who has been going to sea ever since she was 18 when her father, a ship captain now living near Oslo, helped her get her first job on a passenger line.

But this is the first voyage—and her first wireless job for Mrs. Milne whose husband was killed in France on Oct. 1.

Even Chief Steward Maurtz Mathison, of Notforo, Norway, admits that Elsa holds sway in the galley.

"Why shouldn't I admit it?" was his cryptic comment.

MAY MEET HUSBAND

Stewardess Greaker was particularly anxious to begin the present trip, since she hopes to meet her husband, a second mate with the Norwegian Merchant Marine, whom she has not seen in nine months. They have a six-months old son whom papa has not yet met and who stays with friends when mama sets sail.

Captain Larsen, whose ship was in at the Maryland drydock for overhauling, admitted there was a manpower shortage when he decided to hire a female stewardess in the first place - but, he added:

"Elsa can do the job as well as any man. As for the wireless, that girl doesn't have an equal."

SHIP HIT

"On one of our earlier trips a munitions ship exploded. The concussions from the explosion were so great that everything in the [illegible] was thrown overboard. I was walking outside and [illegible] calmly standing on deck watching the show.

"When I suggested we come inside, she said, 'I'm not afraid to be out here, I can too.'"

Bobby Soxers' Idol Under Observation For Military Duty

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 9 (AP)—Frank Sinatra, idol of the bobby soxers, was sent to Governor's Island for "further observation yesterday after completing his second physical examination for military service at the Bayonne [illegible] center.

Lt.-Col. Frank B. Chapman, commander of the New Jersey and Delaware reception and induction center, said at the armory the crooner was transported to New York in an army automobile and that he would be notified of the result of the tests by local board 50, Jersey City, within two or three days.

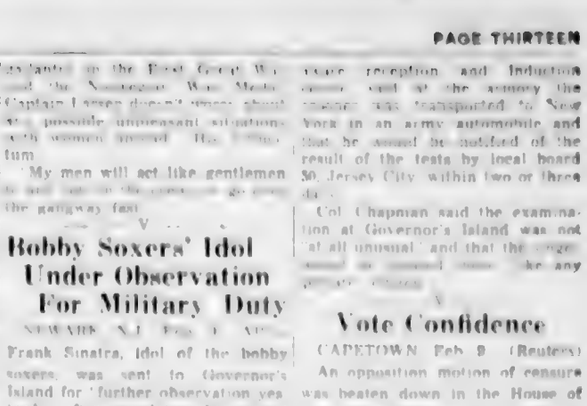

Col. Chapman said the examination at Governor's Island was not "at all unusual" and that the singer seemed in normal condition like any [illegible].

U.S. Show Troupe Not Navy Guests

VANCOUVER, Feb 9—(CP)—Rear Admiral V. G. Brodeur, commanding officer of the Royal Canadian Navy on the Pacific coast said last night that a cruise in Vancouver harbor last Sunday ... the cast of the U.S. Coast Guard touring show "Tars and Spars" was in no way an official invitation of the Royal Canadian Navy."

An enquiry is being held here into unconfirmed charges by girl members of the cast that they were insulted and molested by Canadian sailors aboard the naval vessel which was scheduled to take them on a three-hour cruise. The trip ended after 40 minutes.

Early yesterday, Rear Admiral Brodeur said "the evidence to date tends to indicate the incident was greatly exaggerated."

Rear Admiral Brodeur said the RCN was not officially advised of the arrival of the troupe in Vancouver but the cast was greeted by RCN officers and extended every courtesy by the navy in Vancouver.

A senior officer of the U.S. Coast Guard came to Vancouver last week to apologize to Rear Admiral Brodeur for the error in not officially notifying the RCN here that the troupe was coming.

Churchill Won't Back Combine Against Soviet

By JOHN M HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Feb 9 (AP)— Flat rejection by Prime Minister Churchill of any idea of a combine against Russia helped clear the air for the current Big Three meeting. The point came up specifically in a proposal from the Spanish dictator, Francisco Franco, for a western Europe alliance against the Soviet Union.

Cabinet Called For Discussion Political Plans

By R. K. CARNEGIE

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—(CP)—A meeting of the cabinet has been called for this afternoon and it is possible that before it rises a decision will have been reached on whether there will be another session of parliament before a general election.

[illegible] it was stated

OPINION DIVIDED

[illegible]

While several ministers favor it, it is understood others think it would be in the best interests of the country to hold a short session next month, dissolve parliament before its life expires April 17, and delay an election until even as late as September or October.

Begin Demolish Labor Hall Soon

Preliminary work on the $140,000 extension to the main city telephone building, 102 avenue and 100 street will start April 1 with the demolition of the Labor Hall and the service station located on the 102 avenue and 100 street southwest corner. It was announced Friday by Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect.

The proposed addition will be brick-reinforced concrete construction with stone face. It will be 40 by 150 feet, and it is anticipated that it will take from six to seven months to complete.

The Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, tenants of the Labor Hall, is now exploring ways and means of building a Labor Temple. A special committee of the trades council is studying this proposal and will report shortly to a general meeting of the trades body.

Dominion Has No Cigarette Shortage

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Buying a package of cigarettes, an accomplishment of note in the United States, continues to be an everyday event to Canadians even though the wartime consumption has soared to record heights.

In 1939 the average Canadian more than 15 years of age smoked 630 cigarettes. Last year, after making allowance for the number of men and women overseas, this figure had jumped to 1,017.

Still there is no shortage and officials concerned with the country's smoking habits have three main reasons:

1. The high taxes on Canadian cigarettes.
2. Absence of "panic buying."
3. Tight government control of the industry.

The Canadian tax on cigarettes ranges from $10 to $11 per 1,000 compared with $5.50 in the United States. When a Canadian pays 35 cents for a package of 20 cigarettes he is paying 21 cents to the government.

Prairies Enjoy Mild Weather

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9—(CP)—A wave of mild weather swept the prairie provinces and sunshine drove away the clouds which drenched British Columbia coastal areas with 4.01 inches of rain in the 48-hour period ended at nine a.m. yesterday.

In Winnipeg, temperatures around 20 above zero softened ice and delayed play in the annual bonspiel and brought relief to citizens from a blizzard which swept the area Wednesday night.

Saskatchewan and Alberta enjoyed chinook weather. Regina was 30 above and thermometers at Saskatoon reached 35 above to break a two-week cold snap. Light sleet was reported in Calgary after a warm day and Edmonton registered about 35 above.

Flood waters which caused thousands of dollars damage in Vancouver and the lower B.C. mainland were receding last night although several sections of the Fraser Valley were still under water late yesterday.

WAR BRIDES DON SKIS, SNOWSHOES, RIDE SLEIGHS AND FIND THAT THE MEAN OLD CANADIAN WINTER ISN'T SO BAD

Winter sports are a novelty to most English war brides in Canada. Here a group goes for its first ride in a sleigh. One husband, Cpl. Harold Cross, Lorne Scots, and the airman husband of another came along.

Skiing is fun, too, the girls agree. Here Mary Hancox, who hasn't had much opportunity to use skis before, almost goes over while Jean Long watches, as the two brides go skiing. There's plenty of snow, anyway.

Maureen Ann Young, aged two and a half, and her mother, Mrs. Phyllis Young, who arrived in this country a few weeks ago, have fun with a donkey. This is nothing new to many an English child as the donkey is a seaside favorite.

Jean Ferguson of Dumfries, Scotland, finds ski-joring exciting but anything but easy. Snow sports are a novelty to most English war brides now in Canada.

Snowshoeing was tried by Mrs. Phyllis Swanson. It was fun, too, she agreed, until she came to this awkward fence.

Cpl. Harold E. Cross and his English bride, Mrs. Cross, start out for a ride in a typical Canadian vehicle, a cutter.

PIPE-PACKIN' MAMA. — Now almost as much a part of the fashion picture as her coiffure, Dache net and smart checked suit, is the pipe this lady clenches between her teeth, man fashion. Designers may soon be matching pipes with costumes.

JOINS CWACS.—Mrs. E. Howey, British war bride, who has seen plenty of action abroad, has now realized her ambition in Canada and joined the army. In England, Pte. Howey worked in the British government bomb damage department.

FOURTEEN ARMY SHOW UNITS OVERSEAS, ELEVEN MORE COMING, IS CANADA'S ENTERTAINMENT RECORD

Comedienne Ruth Hutchinson of Bowmanville, Ont., can almost walk over five-foot "Mickey" Clark of Sturgeon Falls, Ont. Both are army show trainees.

Pianist Don Ockenden serenades a visitor, Peggy Stansfield, Vancouver, at the army show schools. Two more shows are ready to proceed from Canada; nine more are to be produced.

Drummer's view of the army show is something like this when he's at the traps and the chorus is swinging into action. He's Gordon Jarvis, formerly with the CAC band at Camp Borden, Ont.

LEAP GIRL. — Kathryn Lee, above, 17-year-old ballerina, Ft Worth, Tex., has to keep on her toes now, for she has been chosen favorite "Leap Girl for 1945" by paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, of Bastogne fame. She is currently leaping in Olsen and Johnson's new Broadway hit, "Laffing Room Only."

STOWAWAY. — Elizabeth Drewery, the Derbyshire, England, dancer who, in December, 1943, stowed away on a Liberator bomber and flew the Atlantic, has been taken from a Russian ship on which she attempted to stow away to Russia, the U.S. immigration service and coastguard at Seattle disclosed. Raphael A. Bonham, district immigration officer, said she is being taken to Port Angeles and will be given the choice of returning voluntarily to Canada, whence the ship sailed, or of being arrested and deported.

SOLDIER BOY. — Chinese boys start their soldiering at an early age. This 10-year-old youngster, carrying a heavy pack and wearing regulation uniform, was photographed as he boarded a plane with a China-bound division at Airstrip in Mitkyina, Burma.

Buzz-bomb, built by the U.S. Army Air Force and adapted from the Nazi terror-weapon, may soon outrocket the German make. It is shown here before launching.

THIS BUZZ-BOMB U.S. VARIETY

With a roar the bomb leaves its ramp, borne skyward by the undercarriage which gives it a start on its journey. These pictures were taken at a U.S. experimental station.

Now under its own power, the bomb begins its trip as the undercarriage which gave it impetus drops off. How closely this duplicates the Nazis' weapon is anyone's guess.

Selling Cuts Down Chicago Futures

CHICAGO, Feb. 9—(AP)—A steady flow of commission house selling orders and a lagging interest in the buying side resulted in sharp losses in grain futures markets today. Prices rallied near the close but the recovery was far from complete.

At the finish wheat was ⅝ to 1 cent lower, corn was off ⅝ to ⅞, oats were ¼ to ⅝ lower, rye was down ⅝ to 1⅛ and barley was ⅞ to 1½ lower.

At Winnipeg: Trading suspended.
At Chicago: ⅝ to 1 lower, closing at 1.61-1.60⅞ (May).

Rye Prices Suffer Another Setback

WINNIPEG Feb. 9 — (CP) — Rye futures prices suffered a further setback on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, dropping as much as 2 cents in early trading. Commission houses were hevay sellers at the opening resulting in a flurry of stop-loss orders.

Some recovery developed as trading settled down with support generally on a better scale. Domestic dealings were light and no export business was reported.

The closing range was 1¼ to ⅝ cents lower with May at 1.22¾.

BRANCH MANAGER. — Spitzer and Mills Limited, Canadian advertising agency, Toronto, announces the appointment of Ken Davidson, above, as manager of its newly established branch in Vancouver, B.C. Mr. Davidson was for 11 years with the publicity department of the British Columbia Electric Power Corporation in Vancouver. He came to Spitzer and Mills Limited from executive work in the creative staff of a large Canadian agency, Montreal. Spitzer and Mills Limited, one of Canada's largest ad agencies, now operates in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver.

Survey Damage Of Coast Flood

VANCOUVER, Feb. 9. — (CP)— Civic officials, municipal councils and government engineers today started surveying the damage caused by raging flood waters which swept over several thousand acres of low-lying farmland in Surrey municipality, 20 miles south-east of here, and filled hundreds of basements in several Vancouver districts.

A drizzle of rain was falling over the lower mainland today but meteorrologists predicted there would be no more heavy rainfall. Meanwhile some highways within a 30-mile radius of Vancouver were cleared of the three to six inches of water which has made them impassible for the last three days.

Many roads have been gouged out to a depth of four feet by the raging torrents. Engineers report that tons of gravel will be needed to repair them. Road gangs are busy clearing debris, including timbers, rocks and gravel from several of the highways.

Union Plans Appeal Soldier's Sentence

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—(AP)—A double-barrelled attack on the court martial sentence of life imprisonment given Private Henry Weber of Vancouver, Wash., was under way today by the American Civil Liberties Union.

The union said it had wired Ernest Besig, its northern California director, to appeal the sentence in co-operation with the Socialist Labor party of which Weber was a member.

Its Washington, D.C., office will urge the army's judge advocate general's office to annul the court martial and reclassify Weber as a conscientious objector.

Weber originally received a death sentence for refusal to drill at Camp Roberts, Calif., but the sentence was subsequently changed to life at hard labor and the dishonorable discharge.

LONDON STOCKS

LONDON, Feb. 9—Reuters)—The prominent feature on stock markets today was the strength of British funds which were encouraged by the chancellor of the exchequer's remarks yesterday that the sale of savings bonds recently put "on tap" would continue.

The general trend of markets was firm and a moderate amount of business was put through.

U.S. Grain Stocks In Canada Low

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—(CP)—Stocks of United States gain in Canada Feb. 1 totalled 253,516 bushels compared with 1,775,677 on the corresponding date last year the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Stocks of soybeans advanced to 74,131 bushels from 26,542, whole corn decreased to 179,385 bushels from 526,883. There was no wheat in stock compared with 1,222,252 bushels last year.

CREAM PRICES

Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries: Special grade, 44; No. 1, 42; No. 2, 37; off grade, 32.

All prices include government bonus of 10c to farmers.

EGG PRICES

Dealers now paying to country shippers: A large, 39; A medium, 37; A pullet, 21; grade B, 24; grade C, 12.

Wholesale to retail: A large, 37; A medium, 35; A pullet, 29; grade B, 31; grade C, 20.

Retail to consumers: A large, 44; A medium, 42; A pullet, 36; grade B, 35; grade C, 27.

This egg market continues on a steady basis with egg values unchanged throughout. Receipts are estimated at 3 per cent. increase over the previous week. Quality of arrivals continues to grade a high percentage of A quality. Seven carlots were shipped in shell to Great Britain and two carlots delivered to the local drying plant. One carlot of grade A shipped to Prince Rupert, B.C., and another large shipment to Dawson Creek, B.C. There is only a slight accumulation of grade C eggs on hand. Retail demand continues good.

POULTRY PRICES

The carlot movement of dressed poultry was more active than the previous week, three carlots of chicken and fowl with some ducks and geese were exported to the United States, one carlot of chicken and fowl rolled to Ontario and one car of chicken and fowl rolled to Prince Rupert. A fair quantity of chicken and fowl continues to come to market necessitating continued operation of processing plants on a light basis. Indications are that a fairly good clean-out has been made of frozen stocks of all kinds of poultry. Dealers continue to pay for live No. 1 chicken over 4 lbs. 19, under 4 lbs. 17. No. 2 chicken, 15. Fowl No. 1, over 5 lbs. 17, 4 to 5 lbs. 15, No. 2 fowl 10. Dressed poultry are as follows: MFA all weights, 27 MFB 26, grade B, 24, and C 20. Dressed fowl grade A, 22, B, 20, and C, 15.

Forged Cheque Aids Enlistment in Army

The story of a mother, now 42 years old, who "clumsily forged" a wheat acreage cheque belonging to someone else, in order that her son might make a trip to Edmonton to join the armed services, was told to Magistrate L. R. Jackson in city police court Friday morning.

The woman, formerly postmaster at a country point, received the cheque in the post office after its rightful owner had left the district. Instead of sending it on, she made use of it, and the money saw her son able to come to Edmonton.

Here, the youth's offer of service was refused. Still anxious to get into uniform, the boy went to Calgary. Eventually he arrived overseas, and only recently became a casualty, losing one eye. A daughter had also joined the services, the court was told.

The woman stated that she is the mother of 15 children, and is expecting another. Her husband, a veteran of the First Great War, had been unfit for heavy work ever since he returned from overseas. The accused said she was the sole support of her family on their farm.

The accused woman was placed on suspended sentence and ordered to make restitution.

E. P. Flintoft Retires Feb. 15

MONTREAL, Feb 9.—E. P. Flintoft, KC, vice-president and general counsel of the Canadian Pacific Railway company since 1942, will retire on February 15 after serving "with conspicuous ability" for more than 36 years, it was announced today by D. C. Coleman, chairman and president of the CPR.

A native of Sarnia, Mr. Flintoft was in private practice at Toronto and Waterloo, Ont., for five years before joining the company as assistant to the solicitor here in November of 1908. His entire career was spent in Montreal.

G. A. Walker, KC, general solicitor here since 1936 and who was in Calgary for 23 years of his long service with the CPR, will succeed Mr. Flintoft as vice-president and general counsel. He started as solicitor's office boy in Toronto.

The general solicitor from February 15 will be F. C. S. Evans, assistant general solicitor here for the past three years, while D. I. McNeill, KC, assistant general solicitor at Winnipeg since 1942, will fill the new post of assistant general counsel here.

Report Copenhagen Harbor Is Attacked

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(CP)—Allied planes kept up their widespread attacks on the enemy yesterday and last night with a series of strikes into Denmark, Holland, Austria and Germany itself. An Associated Press dispatch from Stockholm said Allied bombers, presumably British, pounded the harbor at Copenhagen, Denmark, last night in a blow presumably directed at light units of the German Baltic fleet which have been reported there.

Italian Frontiers, Colonies Remains An Open Question

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(AP)—Joseph C. Grew, United States acting secretary of state, disclosed yesterday that the Italian armistice leaves open completely the question of Italy's frontiers and colonies. "The surrender instrument does not contain any provision with respect to future settlements", Mr. Grew said. He added that in view "of the co-belligerency of Italy it has not been necessary to apply the terms as originally drawn up". The armistice terms were signed in September, 1943.

Passes at 59

TORONTO, Feb. 9—(CP)—Clair Hague, 59, Canadian representative for Universal Films, New York, and associated with the motion picture industry in Canada for the last 40 years, died yesterday. He had been ill for some weeks.

APPOINTMENT. — C. R. Vint, president of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company, Limited, announces the appointment of R. E. Jones, above, as advertising manager. Mr. Jones' advertising, sales promotion and merchandising experience encompasses several years' service as advertising manager with General Foods Limited. Well-known in Canadian and American advertising circles through his past-presidency of the Association of Canadian Advertisers, Mr. Jones continues to serve the interests of Canadian advertisers through active participation on committees studying radio, research and press media. Mr. Jones assumed his new duties at Colgate-Palmolive on Feb. 1.

Lower Plane Fares, Cargo Rates Seen

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9—(CP)—Reduction in airlines operating costs, and lower passenger fares and cargo rates in the post-war years were forecast here yesterday by James T. Bain of Winnipeg, superintendent of maintenance, Trans-Canada Air Lines, at the 59th annual meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

He delivered one of a series of papers on aviation presented by officials of the TCA at the closing session of the two-day meeting.

Aircraft manufacturers are confident they can produce in the future machines that can be operated at a small fraction of the present costs, he said. It is also estimated that the cost per passenger mile will be reduced to less than half the present rates, and cargo charges promised will be less than today's railroad express tariffs.

"If costs are cut in half, it is reasonable to anticipate at least a doubling of aircraft traffic. Routes which now cannot support the development of airline services will become economically possible."
